'RUSH WORK ON LOCAL HARBOR'

Knowland Says Project Should Be Completed to Meet Increased Demands

Still Greater Port Is Needed for Greater Oakland, Declares Congressman

ALAMEDA, Nov. 2.—Congressman J. R. Knowland spoke last night at a special meeting of the North Side Improvement club on the improvement of Oakland harbor. President Thomas Carpenter presided as chairman of the evening, and music was furnished by the West End Boys' band.

In his address Congressman Knowland said:

"It was realized by 1906 that the commerce of Oakland harbor was so rapidly growing as to necessitate an enlargement of the then existing facilities for the accommodation of shipping. The last government survey had been made in 1900 and recommended three alternate projects, but the most comprehensive of these, and the one calling for the largest expenditure, was that of a 30-foot channel in the river and harbor bill in 1909 Senator Perkins and I had inserted an item calling for a re-survey of Oakland harbor to meet the present and future needs of commerce."

NEW SURVEY MADE.

"Pursuant to this congressional act, Colonel Biddle, the district engineer, made a careful and complete re-survey of Oakland harbor, recommending the following project: A 30-foot channel, 500 feet wide, from the bay to the tidal basin, and a channel 25 feet deep and 300 feet wide around the tidal basin, and for the future 15 to 18 feet in the tidal canal. In this connection it might be well to explain that no appropriation is made for any harbor improvement until congress has authorized a survey, which survey is made by the local engineer, a report sent to Washington and, passed upon by what is known as the board of engineers for rivers and harbors. If this board approves, their report in turn must be acted upon by the chief of engineers and the secretary of war. The board was finally prevailed upon to grant a rehearing. At this conference, which was held at the headquarters of the board at Washington, the strongest case possible was presented on behalf of Oakland harbor. It was shown that when the government be-

Bomb Explodes in a Tenement Chimney

Concussion Rocks Five-Story Building and Injures Four People.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A dynamite bomb, lowered by a long string down the chimney of a tenement house on East Eleventh street, exploded early this morning behind the fireplace of East Le Barb, a well-to-do tobacco dealer. The cover of the fireplace was blown through a partition and struck two sons of Le Barb, slightly injuring both. A bronze statue from the mantelpiece was blown through another partition and injured Le Barb and his wife, who were asleep in their bedroom adjoining.

The explosion shook the entire five-story building and sent a hundred tenement tenants scurrying to the street. Le Barb told the police that he had received no threatening letters and believed the bomb had been placed in his chimney by mistake.

Imperial Troops Massacre the Mongolians During Battle at Hankow

Native City Is Being Burned by Successful Manchu Soldiers

PEKING, Nov. 2.—The German legation today received a wireless message from the vicinity of Hankow stating that the imperial forces are burning the native city of Hankow and confirming yesterday's report that the imperial troops massacred men, women and children during several days' fighting.

It is evident that the Manchu soldiers are infuriated over earlier Chinese successes and that they have got out of control of their officers.

General Yin Tichang, who has been removed from his command at Hankow to commander-in-chief of the general staff, returned to Peking today.

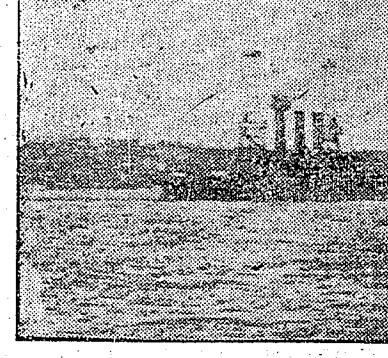

Another edict was issued today. It instructs the national assembly to "organize the empire's constitutional laws and submit them to use for consideration and issuance."

PEKING, Nov. 2.—The government's plan for bringing about peace moved forward rapidly today with the throne and the national assembly working together. The throne ordered Yuan Shi Kai, the new premier, to return immediately to Peking and simultaneously the national assembly in its official capacity telegraphed General Li Yuan Heng, leader of the revolutionists, requesting him to suspend hostilities pending the result of the endeavor to settle the differences of all parties.

Lyman Pleads Not Guilty of Conspiracy

Charge of Plot to Escape From Providence Hospital Is Against Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Dr. J. Grant Lyman pleaded not guilty this morning to the charge of conspiracy to escape from Providence hospital, federal grand jury. Lyman appeared in court accompanied by William Hog Cook, and Judge De Haven ordered that he be arraigned on the charge. After the regular formalities and the means of the plot, a continuance was had until next Monday morning, when the date for the trial will be set.

Without Warning, the Four Men Sprang Upon Him With Levelled Revolvers, Compelled Him to Hold Up His Hands and Bound Him With Cords.

One of the quartet stood guard over him while the other three went to the office of the concern, drilled the safe, set a charge of nitro-glycerine and wrecked the strong box. The door was shattered and the contents of the safe sprinkled over the floor.

FEAR POLICE.

The men were searching the papers for money when the step of a patrolman on the sidewalk outside and the rattle of the outer door as he tried it alarmed them. Calling off their companion, they fled through the rear door across a lot, while Bernhard called out lustily. He lay helpless with the fourth robber standing over him, gun in hand, and listened to the sound of the crackmen at work.

After an hour's struggling he succeeded in freeing himself from his bonds and notified the police. Detective Groleto was sent out from headquarters and quickly established the fact that the work of the robbers was almost identical with that of a man, who in a similar fashion, blew open the vault of the Ocean Shore railway offices, but a short distance off.

Manager Charles Cath of the "La Grande laundry" was summoned to the office and said that the $30 taken was loose change collected last night.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—After surprising and binding Louis Bernhard, night watchman in the La Grande laundry, 234 Twelfth street, at an early hour this morning, four expert cracksmen blew open the safe of the establishment with nitro-glycerine and made their escape without detection. They only obtained $30 in cash, overlooking $100 in their haste to get away, alarmed at the approach of a regular policeman.

Bernhard was in the engine room and had just put on his coat to make his hourly rounds of the plant when this hourly rounds of the plant when MANILA, Nov. 2.—The Chinese district was swept by fire today with a loss of over $100,000. At noon the fire threatened to destroy the commercial center of the city and the Twentieth Infantry, with General Funston in charge, was called out to assist the fire-fighters. The work of the soldiers saved the day and the fire was under control early in the afternoon.

M'NAMARA CASE OPENS WITH RUSH

Talesman Lorenzo Romano Released by Mutual Consent

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—Five talesmen were excused, one after another, in the McNamara trial today, the case of Talesman Louis A. Wilhelm furnishing the greatest excitement for counsel.

Before being excused Wilhelm led opposing counsel an exciting chase after the state of his mind toward James B. McNamara, on trial for murder of Charles J. Haggerty, who was killed in the Los Angeles Times explosion, 13 months ago. Wilhelm said he had seen the Times ruins and, judging from an explosion which he had seen two years ago, he thought an explosion must have occurred. He appeared to be heading toward a challenge by the defense when he casually remarked he was impressed with the belief that the explosion was caused by gas.

"But you formed no opinion, one way or the other?" asked Darrow.

"No," said the witness.

"And you have no prejudice against the defense or against the state?"

"You may examine the talesman," said Darrow to the state, and District Attorney Fredericks' questioning elicited a claim for exemption from Wilhelm as being a deputy sheriff.

"He waived that yesterday," ruled the court. "Go head with the examination."

Wilhelm finally declared that he would not convict on circumstantial evidence under any circumstances in a capital case and was excused.

OPENS WITH RUSH.

In contrast to yesterday's tedious proceedings today's session of the McNamara murder trial opened with a rush.

REDUCTION IN INSURANCE TO BE MADE

Underwriters Begin the Work of a Re-Survey

Work commenced today on a re-survey of insurance rates in the downtown district of Oakland under the direction of the Board of Fire Underwriters, with E. J. Torney and a corps of assistants in charge. Quarters have been established in the offices of C. Fred Burks, local secretary of the underwriters, at 1068 Broadway. The re-writing of the business property is in fulfillment of pledges made both on the part of the underwriters and the city officials and involves the immediate extension of the present salt water system and the passage of ordinances dealing with minor regulations as to electrical wiring and lighting.

Insurance rates, by the first of January, will be lowered about 15 per cent, making in all a reduction of 25 per cent on the part of the underwriters since the salt water system was established. It is estimated that at this time a 12 1/2 per cent reduction has been made and when the re-survey is completed.

7 MILES OF SHIPS IN LINE

Receives Osterhaus on Mayflower and Later Pays Official Visit to Battleship

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—From the bridge of the Mayflower, where Theodore Roosevelt had stood to bid good-speed to the departing and a joyous welcome to the home-coming battleship fleet that circled the globe three years ago, President Taft today reviewed the most notable assemblage of warships in the history of the American navy.

In three long columns, stretching as far as the eye could see up the Hudson river the grim, gray ships—ninety-nine in all—had awaited the President's coming. In his honor they were dressed from stem to stern in fluttering flags, as if attempting for this gala occasion to conceal the muzzles of the death-dealing guns.

The gay hunting-lent color of the scene, but the meaning of the dull gray hulls and the polished rifles that protruded from turret mouths could not be masked.

There twenty-four battleships in the line represented every type of that class of fighting vessel in the navy from the Indiana, Massachusetts and Iowa of Spanish war fame down to the last work in completed super-dreadnoughts, the majestic Florida, which today lifted the voice of her guns in their first salute.

GOTHAM "NAVY MAD."

New York, which has been "navy mad" for nearly a week, turned out by the hundreds of thousands to witness the review from Riverside drive, from the towering heights of the New Jersey Palisades, and from the decks of excursion and pleasure craft with which the unrestricted sections of the river were choked.

The day was favored by perfect weather, an unclouded sky and a brisk wind that added to the picturesque scene by ruffling the harbor with white caps and whipping the flags that made the ships' above decks a rich color.

The significance of the mobilization and review of the fleet at this time was simply to demonstrate the preparedness of the American navy for

Aviation School May Be Established in Oakland

A scheme for the establishment of an aviation school and exhibition ground in or near Oakland is being discussed by local enthusiasts. The project was suggested to the officials of the Chamber of Commerce in a letter from F. A. Shaw, secretary of the state legislature of Idaho, who has been asked by Alfred J. Moisant of the International Aviators to look about for a suitable site for such an institution on the coast. According to Shaw, the demands for a site would be 300 or 400 acres of ground unobstructed by trees, telephone or telegraph poles, houses, etc. Such grounds would cost, it is estimated, including the necessary equipment of buildings, from $30,000 to $40,000, of which Moisant and the International Aviation company would be willing to pay half, provided the community in which the school was located would bear the other half. If such a site be secured it would mean eventually the establishment of an aeroplane factory, a school in aviation and suitable arrangements for public exhibitions, all of advantage to the community in which they were located.

credits the report that the imperialists have recaptured Hankow.

"The report that the royalist soldiers have retaken Hankow and massacred the inhabitants is believed to have originated from Manchu sources," says the message. "We have been unable to get verification of the rumor. Accounts of revolutionary victories are reaching here daily. The soldiers of the republic have been uniformly victorious in small skirmishes which have taken place in the last few days. The railway station at Yee Do Kiu, north of Hankow, was taken yesterday by the revolutionists after a sharp encounter. Revolt against the Manchu rule is practically universal."

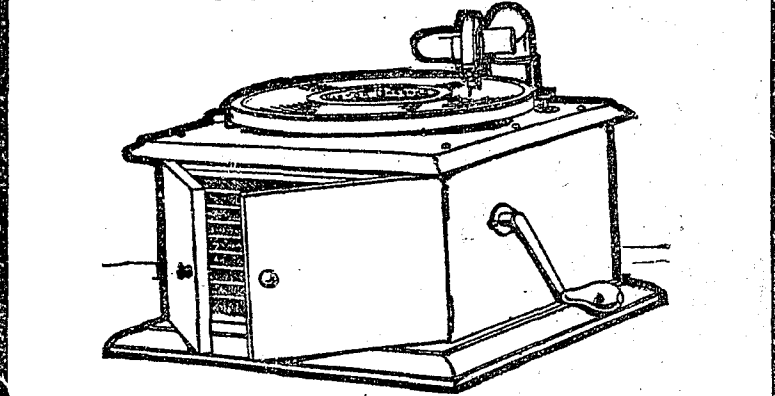

Rebels Demand
Manchu Throne

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Advices were received from Canton today by a Chinese press stating that the viceroy, Chang Ming Chi, had wired a memorial to the prince regent asking for the pardon of Wang Ching Wei, who had attempted to assassinate the prince a year ago last April. Pardon to the prisoner, he said, would go far to placate the people and to show the liberal attitude of the government toward the Republicans. Full pardon was also asked for the revolutionary general, Li Yuen Hung.

According to a message from Canton to the Chinese Free Press today, General Li has absolutely refused to consider peace offers unless the Manchu dynasty yields the throne to the Republicans. Revolutionists are said to occupy all the railroad stations near Hankow, inflicting a loss of over a thousand men on the imperialists in a battle yesterday. The imperial government is reported to have given in to all the demands imposed by the army league, composing five garrisons in neighboring parts.

FUNDS LOW, SEEKS WORK IN LETTER HILBRON PLEADS FOR WIFE AND BABES

Four little Hilbrons. Their names are: Twins, standing, center, ALFRED and ALMA, aged 7; seated, BRUCE, aged 4, and CEDRIC, aged 2 years, in chair.

Hears of Oakland While in New Mexico and Listens to Call of Opportunity

Far away in New Mexico Ernest E. Hilbron heard of Oakland. Able-bodied, temperate and industrious, with but 38 years behind him, he determined to seek better fortune here when business reverses in the small town of Roswell left him without resources and with a wife and four children to care for. With their few belongings, the family arrived here three months ago. Since then every effort on the part of the husband to obtain employment has proven futile and with the exception of three weeks' work he has done nothing to contribute to the meager funds. The family purse had grown flattened and with barely sufficient food in the house to supply their wants for another week, Hilbron resorted to what he believed his last recourse.

WRITES LETTER.
The following letter was received by THE TRIBUNE today from Hilbron, who lives at 4193 Lusk street, in the rear: Oakland, Cal., Nov. 1, 1911.
To the Editor: Dear Sir—As a last resort and in the hope that it may prove efficacious in preventing another of those calamities to which conditions seem to be driving men now a days, I would ask your aid in obtaining publicity. In your valuable journal, of the following facts: I am a married man with a wife and family of four children dependent on me for support. In the past three months I have been able to secure but three weeks' work, and am now at the end of my resources, with a month's rent and other bills for gas and water due.

In looking for employment I have called on many places where my experience and ability would be in line to secure me employment, many of them I have called on a number of times, stating my case and that I would be willing to work at anything they had and at whatever remuneration they thought I was worth. I have in addition advertised in many of the daily papers for a country job, but without results. I have called on various philanthropic and benevolent societies, with a view to enlisting their aid to secure me work, but they either are not equipped for that service or indifferent, so long as I do not ask for charity.

I am a man of good appearance and education, of average ability and industry, an aptician by trade, and have also had experience in other lines, as salesman and correspondent. What I want and must have immediately, is an opportunity to help myself. There is a place for me somewhere if I can only get in touch with it. I am, yours very truly,
E. E. HILBRON.

FOUR CHILDREN.
In the Hilbron family, besides the wife, there are the four small children, pretty youngsters, all of them, and lively, too. The eldest are twins, Alfred and Alma, 7 years old, then Bruce, 4 years, Cedric, 2 years. The twins attend school, but the two younger members remain at home and "play swimming" over the worn rag carpet in a bare-furnished front room, making dives from shattered upholstery of two lonely pieces of furniture. In the back yard, tied with string to a post is a captured kitten, they sole plaything. At that they are happy and oblivious to the extremes to which their father has been put in an effort to supply food for their hungry mouths.

Their mother, with a pleasant face though wearing somewhat of a careworn expression, busies herself in looking after their welfare, and washing and cleaning about the kitchen. All day long the father is away seeking employment. Night after night he has returned with little news that would tend to cheer. His letter explains fully the position that he is in. In regard to the wife said today:

"It is not charity that we ask. My husband is capable of working at almost any task. All he asks is an opportunity to earn enough money at this time of his life to keep his family from getting on his feet again. Through the kindness of friends we have been able to get a place in which to live. When we came here we had no acquaintances, but we had heard that Oakland was a busy city and that somewhere and at something my husband could find work. But things have gone from bad to worse and now we must make every effort or there will be nothing to eat in the house."

"Besides being an aptician, my husband is handicapped with tools of any kind. He has several inventions that he has been unable to place on the market through lack of funds. Mostly they pertain to his profession. It seems strange, but all this time he has been unable to get employment. Everywhere he is given the same response: 'Young men high school boys who live and home and work for little in order to learn a business. Boys that can be trained their way,' while in manual labor there is always some other reason that keeps him in suspense."

BRICKLAYERS CONVE
IN CITY OF FRESNO

FRESNO, Nov. 2.—The morning session of the State convention of bricklayers was devoted principally to a discussion of various grievances reported by the grievance committee. One was from Long Beach, where the Standard Oil Company is erecting a large building and has made an effort. It is alleged to have the bricklayers work nine hours a day instead of the uniform eight. No action has yet been taken. Tonight the delegates will enjoy a theater party and by tomorrow it is expected the laborers of the convention will be closed. A banquet will be held tomorrow night.

NINE MEN IN JURY BOX WHEN CASE OPENS TODAY McNamara Trial Starts Off With Rush in City of Los Angeles in Contrast, With Yesterday

rush. Immediately after the opening of court Talemans Lorenzo Romans, challenged yesterday by the State, was released by the court, with consent of both sides and with no reference at all to the ground for challenge, which was statutory provision against any mental or physical disability.

This left nine men in the box, all accepted as jurors to try James J. Hagerty, for the murder of Charles J. Hagerty, a victim of the Los Angeles Times explosion, and three more veniremen, John Chambers, L. E. Miles and J. M. Hunley, were selected by lot to take their place in the box. Miles said he could not hear well and was opposed to capital punishment. He was excused. Chambers was excused because he said he could not bring a verdict of guilt on circumstantial evidence and the box was filled up again.

INVOLVED IN TANGLE.
Opposing counsel soon involved themselves in a tangle over Judge Bordwell's action in excusing J. W. Chambers and O. H. Hayes, neither of whom believes in voting for conviction in a capital case on circumstantial evidence. The State argued that it had challenged Chambers informally, but had not challenged Hayes and Hayes was called to the box.

"We now ask that a subpoena be issued for Chambers," said Attorney Davis for the defense. The request was refused. Attorney Davis for the defense was refused permission to question the talemans regarding his beliefs on circumstantial evidence, it having been held previously that the defense could not challenge on this ground.

"If you challenge in the one case why don't you challenge the other?" asked District Attorney Fredericks. "Just because we have an ax we don't have to swing it," returned Fredericks. Davis then asked that Hayes' name be put back in the box, which the names of veniremen are drawn to fill vacancies in the jury box and left there to await its turn.

This was refused. Judge Bordwell closed the incident by announcing that he would not examine any more talemans as to their beliefs on circumstantial evidence.

SEEK TO FILL BOX.
Efforts of opposing counsel in the McNamara murder case, were directed today to secure the three talemans to fill the jury box by both sides. Two days in which to secure the three is the limit set by Assistant District Attorney G. Ray Horton, who, under the guidance of District Attorney John D. Fredericks, has done most of the work of examination thus far, while the three other assistants have worked on the evidence to be presented.

"If you challenge in the one case why don't you challenge the other?" asked District Attorney Fredericks. "Just because we have an ax we don't have to swing it," returned Fredericks. Davis then asked that Hayes' name be put back in the box, which the names of veniremen are drawn to fill vacancies in the jury box and left there to await its turn.

This was refused. Judge Bordwell closed the incident by announcing that he would not examine any more talemans as to their beliefs on circumstantial evidence.

WITNESSES TALESMA
He sat today leaning forward in his chair against the rail, watching each talemans, and shifting his gaze from time to time to his counsel. Counsel for the defense expected today to present in support of the state's challenge, made late yesterday, against Talemans Lorenzo Romans, under a section of the penal code covering all manner of personal inability to serve as a juror.

"I want to ask if the state is going back any evidence," said Attorney Lecompte Davis of counsel for the defense. "We desire that all evidence on hand be put in, because we expect to produce witnesses to refute it before the court rules on this man."

Questioned by Judge Walter Bordwell, Attorney Davis said they might not be able to produce their witnesses in the morning but would produce them ready by afternoon. The section under which Romans was challenged was not read in court, contrary to usual custom, and the talemans knew nothing of the proceedings therein, only the section and subdivision being cited. It was considered possible that he would be excused without the use of a peremptory challenge.

The nine talemans who had been passed for cause at the opening of today's session of court were Sam Mendonhall, Seaborn Manning, Robert Bain, F. D. Green, George W. Keen, J. M. Hunley, W. J. Johnson, Frank Frakes.

Lorenzo Romans was the only other talemans in the box, because yesterday afternoon two talemans were excused, their fellows not yet drawn into the box had been allowed to leave court until today, and the two vacancies could not then be filled.

Peremptory challenges which may be called for even before the end of the week are exercised alternately in California, this state leading off. When each side has used as many as it desires the work of filling the box will be started over again, but a man, once overlooked, can thereafter be challenged peremptorily. It is possible, therefore, that the end of this week will show at least two or three jurors who are finally accepted.

REPORTERS IN GAGE.
A transparent glass screen three feet high was erected today between the jury box and the newspaper seats immediately adjoining. The object, it was said, to prevent fragments of conversation from the newspaper enclosure from reaching the ears of jurymen. The screen gave the jury box the appearance of a cage.

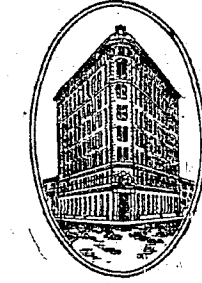

Talemans Lorenzo Romans was excused when court convened at 10:15 o'clock, counsel for the defense deciding not to resist the challenge of the state.

"Under the circumstances," remarked Judge Bordwell, "I think you had better not serve. That accords with your views, does it not?"

"Yes," said Romans as he left the box with a broad grin on his face. John Chambers, L. E. Miles and J. M. Hunley were drawn from the venire to fill the vacancies in the jury box. Miles was excused because he did not believe in capital punishment, and Talemans Hunley complained of poor hearing. The district attorney and counsel for defense alternated in asking Hunley questions in low voices to test his hearing and he answered all as if he understood, so it was decided that his hearing was sufficient.

An argument ensued as to the legality of returning Hayes to the box, but the court ruled that he might be. The defense requested that Chambers also be returned, but the application was denied as the court thought his answers had not disqualified him beyond question.

EXPERTS DISAGREE ON LAND VALUES INSURANCE RATES TO BE LOWERED

More Than $200,000 Difference in Estimates of What Property Is Worth.

Business Men of Oakland Will Benefit by Work of Fire Underwriters.

Dragging its weary length along in Judge John Ellsworth's department of the Superior Court, the city of Oakland's suit for the condemnation of property belonging to the Merritt Hospital Association and located between First street and the estuary and Washington and Clay streets, for the municipal waterfront development scheme, took a new and important angle this forenoon.

Evidence having been introduced by contending counsel with reference to the location of the low tide line of the estuary where the property lies, it requiring more than a month of the court's time to accomplish this phase of the case, the trial led today to the introduction of testimony by realty experts to show the value of all the land in litigation.

Frank J. Woodward, the realty dealer, was the principle witness on values at today's session. He appeared for the city and testified that in his judgment, the land in question was worth on April 12 of the current year about $2 per square foot, in making Woodward's estimate of the total value of the property $154,842. The hospital association holds the value of the land at more than $400,000.

It will remain for the jury to determine how much of the land the hospital association has title to and the amount of damages it awards will be based upon the conclusion that is reached on this point. The city expects to have its case within a few days and then the trial is expected to run for probably a month longer to enable counsel for the defendant association to finish its.

UNDERTAKER ON WITNESS STAND

Fleming Case Hinges On Who Made Marks On Throat of Corpse.

REDDING, Nov. 2.—In the trial of Daniel Fleming of Oakland for the murder of George Villier of Tacoma, the defense today sought to prove the marks on the victim's neck were caused by the handling of Villier's body by a local undertaker.

A. M. Dick, the undertaker in the case, testified today he had twisted a cord about the neck of the corpse to stop the flow of the bleeding fluid through a wound in the head. It was on the arrival of the body at Tacoma that the finger marks on the neck were discovered and photographed by the authorities.

The prosecution is attempting to show that Fleming choked and beat Villier. The defense claims the finger marks were Dick's. In testifying today Dick said he saw no finger marks on the throat while preparing the body. He declared that he had not tied the cord tightly enough to make an impression on the skin.

ASK COUNCIL TO LAY MAIN DRAIN

Residents of Sanitary Sewer District No. 2 Make Application.

Residents of sanitary sewer district No. 2, one of the four districts adjudicated against by the State Supreme Court in a recent decision, filed a petition with the city council this morning asking for the construction of main sewers and laterals under the Vrooman act. The work is to be done partially by the property owners and partially by the city, through the special fund provided in the annual budget.

The petition is signed by about 150 property owners. The account was referred to Commissioner of Streets William J. Bacus, who is co-operating with the sewer districts in obtaining sanitation.

Petitions are now being circulated in the other districts, and the proceedings will soon have reached the stage where actual work may be commenced in constructing the sewers.

PRESIDENT TAFT REVIEWS LONG LINE OF VESSELS Seven Miles of Sea Fighters, Representing American Navy, Lined Up for Chief's Inspection

any emergency. To further impress this fact on the President and the nation, to say nothing of the world at large, the naval authorities were not content with the usual plan of holding a review of the fleet at anchor, but in addition the orders provided that after the Mayflower had steamed through the several columns the fleet should get under way and pass out to sea.

President Taft materially altered his travel plans to come to New York at this time to witness the pageant. He will leave for Hot Springs, Va., late this afternoon.

SEES AMERICAN NAVY.
President Taft had his first real view of the American navy. It had so happened since he entered the White House that the fleet which was so greatly admired by his predecessor, Colonel Roosevelt, had been on widely scattered duty for the greater part of the time. And while the President had reviewed two divisions of the Atlantic fleet in Provincetown in the summer of 1910 and a little more than two weeks ago in San Francisco had stood on the quarterdeck of the flag-ship California of the Pacific fleet, he had never until today seen into his own as commander-in-chief of the fighting forces of the country.

From the bridge of the Presidential yacht, Mayflower, Taft reviewed the gray armada that for nearly a week had swung at anchor in the Hudson river, awaiting his inspection. As the little white Mayflower picked her way in and out among the giant craft of the battleship line the guns roared in salute.

SEVEN-MILE COLUMN.
The yacht with the President's blue-crested flag at the main truck, sailed gracefully along the seven-mile column of fighting ships turned out at end and headed again down the river.

Late today the entire fleet, ninety-nine vessels in all, got under way and passed in review of the President while the Mayflower lay at anchor off the Statue of Liberty.

President Taft planned to spend the entire day on the water. His train arrived in Jersey City from Washington shortly after 7 o'clock and a few minutes later he was being transferred to the Mayflower. As he went aboard his flag was broken from the masthead and the usual honors were paid to him.

As a rule, Taft requests that all ceremonies on the Mayflower be suspended. Today's events being purely official, however, the ceremonies prescribed in the navy regulations were followed to the letter. The party aboard the Presidential yacht also was strictly official.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer, the President's aide and Secretary Hilles went aboard with Taft. A large party of invited guests, including senators, representatives and foreign military and naval attaches from Washington were aboard the dispatch boat Dolphin, which followed in the wake of the Mayflower.

SALUTE PRESIDENT.
When President Taft had taken his place on the bridge, the Mayflower got under way and headed up the Hudson. It was quite a sail to the foot of Fifty-ninth street, where the head of the battleship column rested. On board the flagship Connecticut a sharp lookout had been kept down the harbor and as soon as the Presidential flag was made out in the distance the flagship let go with her saluting gun.

Rear Admiral Osterhaus, commander-in-chief sailing in the Connecticut, was first to board the Mayflower. He was followed shortly by the other officers of the fleet, who went aboard in accord with their divisional rank. The President and Secretary Meyer stood on the quarterdeck. Taft had a cordial expression of greeting for each of the officers.

When the reception had ended and the admirals had sailed away in their barges the President prepared to return the courtesies with a call on board the Connecticut. The guns of the flagship thundered a salute as he came aboard and again when he left.

BEST VIEW OF FLEET.
It was from the Connecticut that the President got his best view of the anchored fleet. With the sounding of colors at 8 a. m. a great transformation had come over the dull gray vessels. Their great yard arms and skeleton masts, which had stood out bare and ungraceful against the skyline suddenly blossomed with the varicolored flags of full dress.

The exchange of calls completed the Mayflower picked up her anchors and started down the water lane formed by the battleships on her starboard quarter and the slender little destroyers to port. With the Presidential flag again on the move the saluting began anew. This time it was not in chorus, however. As the Mayflower's bridge cleared the flagship Connecticut let go with twenty-one guns.

Taft stood on the bridge and lifted his hat as he passed the colors of the various vessels.

LIVING OUTLINE.
On board each battleship and on board the destroyers the sides were manned with bluejackets, giving a living outline to the steel belted hulls. On the quarter decks the officers in the gold and lace of special full dress uniforms were assembled and at attention. The marine guards also were drawn up on the quarter decks and the ship bands, uniformed in scarlet, stood out a bright patch of color in the grouping on the after decks.

As the President's yacht passed the battleships there were trumpet flourishes and drum ruffles from each just before the bands crashed out with the national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner." From near and far there came the sound of bugles to mingle with the music of the bands and the crash of the guns. It was a spectacle that sent a thrill through all who saw and heard.

After making a round trip of the naval columns, the Mayflower drew clear of the fleet and steamed down the bay to her anchorage and there was a brief respite. The President lunched on board his yacht.

SERIOUS WORK.
Meantime on board the fleet the most serious work of the day was performed. The ships with the turning of the tide were to lift anchors and get under way. To untangle the mass of fighting material was a matter of no mean seamanship. The turn of the tide to an inflow had helped solve the problem to a large extent and the vessels had swung naturally to a down stream position.

After passing in review of the President at twelve knots an hour and reaching the open sea, the fleet was disbanded. The ships going to their several home stations departed for the winter maneuvers in the South.

While the fleet reviewed by the President today was the most powerful ever gathered in one American command, it was not such a homogeneous fighting force as that composed of sixteen battleships that sailed around the world three years ago.

It reflected rather the transitory stage of the American navy—the passing from the old line of battleships to the modern.

COLLEGE SPIRIT IS DISCUSSED
Brother Lewis Tells Students at St. Mary's to "Lose Like Gentlemen."

Brother Lewis, vice-president of St. Mary's College, in the course of his regular address to the students this morning, touched upon the vexed and vexing problem of college spirit. He maintained that at every institution are certain students who take but a partial view of loyalty to their alma mater. Selfishness will result in the absolute elimination of college spirit. The desire to win at all costs should never be allowed to dominate the athletic activities, rather the motto, "Win if we can, but if we must lose let us lose like gentlemen."

WOLVES CHASE DEER INTO HEART OF CITY
ANACONDA, Mont., Nov. 2.—Driven from the hills by the deep snows and desperate with hunger, bands of timber wolves are prowling on the outskirts of the city. A band of five wolves pursued a deer into the heart of the city early yesterday, but were put to flight by a night watchman. The deer escaped. The wolves apparently are taking shelter in the abandoned stables of the racetrack on the outskirts of the town.

KYRLE BELLEW, FAMOUS ACTOR, IS DEAD BRIEF ILLNESS ENDS ROMANTIC CAREER

KYRLE BELLEW, the famous actor, who died this morning of pneumonia at Salt Lake City.

Creator of 'Raffles' and 'The Thief' Dies of Pneumonia in Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 2.—Kyrle Bellew, one of the foremost actors of the English-speaking stage, author and explorer, died here shortly after 5 o'clock this morning of pneumonia, after a brief illness. Bellew was taken ill last Friday, but although a portion of his Salt Lake City engagement was canceled, his illness was not considered serious until yesterday, when congestion of the lungs set in.

The body was started for New York at noon today, accompanied by the members of "The Mollusc" company, in which Bellew was playing at the time he was taken ill.

In addition to his successes as a romantic dramatist and adapter, he arranged and presented a successful English adaptation of "La Tosca" and was author of the English version of "Charlotte Corday" and other plays.

SUCCESS AS 'RAFFLES.'
The parts played by Bellew covered a wide field, ranging from Shakespeare to modern comedy, but perhaps his greatest success was his performance of "Raffles" in the drama of that name. He also created the leading roles in "The Thief," "Brigadier Gerard," "A Gentleman of France" and other successes.

His private life was as varied and adventurous as the roles he presented. He was born at Calcutta, India, in 1857, of English parents, his father being the chaplain of Calcutta cathedral.

CONGREGATIONAL PASTOR AT SAN JOSE RESIGNS
SAN JOSE, Nov. 2.—Rev. William T. Patchell, for the past eight years pastor of the First Congregational Church of this city, today announced that his resignation was in the hands of the board of trustees of the church. Patchell denied that there has ever been any friction in the congregation, and added that it is because his home has been broken up by the death of his wife a few months ago that he is unable to accustom himself to the new order of things, and will leave soon for New England.

In the East he will accept no regular pastorate, but will fill vacant pulpits temporarily. Rev. Mr. Patchell has taken an unusually warm interest in civic and political questions since coming here, and has been in the forefront of every forward movement.

KNOWLAND TELLS OF HARBOR WORK

Congressman Delivers Address in Alameda On Waterfront Project.

gan work in 1874 the annual tonnage of the port aggregated but 154,300 tons, but that the commerce had since increased until it amounted to 4,000,000 tons annually.

OAKLAND IN THE LEAD.
"What really determined the case for Oakland was the exhibit of reports which the river and harbor board had approved, providing for 30-foot channels for the harbors of Los Angeles and San Diego, these reports both showing that neither harbor had as great an annual tonnage as Oakland. The board reversed its former action and approved the recommendation of Colonel Biddle. Final approval was given by the chief of engineers and the secretary of war and the fight was shifted to congress, where it was necessary to secure the adoption of this $1,100,000 project and to obtain appropriations to carry on the work. In this fight we were likewise successful and such amounts have since been appropriated as the local engineers have recommended as necessary to prosecute the work."

OPENING OF BRIDGES.
"At the suggestion of the citizens of Alameda the matter of operating the drawbridges across the tidal canal was taken up with the government authorities. It was believed that the time had come when the canal frontages should be used for commercial purposes and it was made necessary the occasional opening of these drawbridges. The county of Alameda and our city agreed to furnish the power for operating the bridges, as well as to maintain them after they had been properly equipped. In the river and harbor act of 1910 it was provided that these drawbridges be turned over to the local authorities to be maintained and operated by them, and funds were appropriated to enable the government properly to equip and repair them, which work is now under way. The opening of these canal bridges will be of decided advantage to Alameda commercially. Later on, as the canal increases, there will be a call for a deepening of the canal by the government. The expense of repairing and equipping these bridges is estimated at nearly $20,000."

In recommending the new 30-foot project, Colonel Biddle suggested that the work first necessary to meet the urgent need of commerce was to enlarge the channel from San Francisco bay to Webster street drawbridge to a width of 200 feet and a depth of 30 feet, and in this view the secretary of war concurred. It was believed that the amount appropriated in the last river and harbor bill, together with the balance available, would complete this section of work, but the district engineer, now in charge, Colonel Rees, who succeeds "Colonel Biddle, informed me yesterday that owing to increased bids (14 cents instead of 11 cents per foot of work, but the money available was not sufficient to complete the channel from the bay to the Webster street bridge, and further, that it would probably take nearly $140,000 additional. This makes it unfortunate for the interest in that part of the project from the Webster street bridge to and around the tidal basin.

MUST TAKE OUR SHARE.
"The last congress entered upon a policy of natural river and harbor bills which it is hoped will continue with the new congress. We must always keep these facts in mind, however. An omnibus river and harbor bill contains appropriations for over 400 projects and fully 10 states are interested. No locality can get all it asks. We must accept our share of the total in accordance with our importance. The recommendation of the local engineer, as to the amounts he can advantageously use during the fiscal year, has great weight with congress, as does likewise his recommendation as to where it shall be spent. Naturally the engineer is urged to keep down the expenditures.

"I have repeatedly urged that the commercial bodies upon this side of the bay, both in Oakland and Alameda, keep an accurate record as to the commerce of the port and commerce is what counts with the army and before congress. The policy of congress is to treat those localities most generously which show a disposition for millions that, and no localities has furnished more convincing evidence of a desire to help itself than the city of Oakland, which, through a bond issue, is now spending $2,500,000 up to Alameda and so on."

"I was glad to note that our wide-awake mayor appointed a board of harbor commissioners and I hope this is a forerunner of activities upon this side looking to the fullest utilization of one of our chief assets the waterfront of this city. What would many large cities give for such a waterfront? They would gladly bond them for millions that they might reap its fullest benefits. A harbor is a wonderful asset, and with the value of this asset will more than double. Oakland has started none too soon."

The present administration of Oakland, led by Mayor Mott, demonstrated its far-sightedness by taking up this matter early with the result that Oakland will be in a position to reap its benefits with the opening of the canal. Believing that in the near future that even the present project will be outgrown, I favor a new survey looking to the adoption of a greater project to meet the increased business looking for with the opening of that mighty waterway."

ARE BUILDING CONCRETE BRIDGES IN YOLO COUNTY

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 2.—About fifty concrete bridges are to be built in Yolo county under the direction of County Surveyor F. N. Ashley. Few of them will be small, but the board of supervisors has passed a resolution under the emergency act providing for the construction of several larger ones in various parts of the county where the cost will be more than $300 each. This step was taken to avoid advertising for bids, so that the work could be kept in the hands of Engineer Ashley.

REIGNER FAILS TO WIN SUIT

Culvert Into Which Defendant Fell Didn't Belong to Plaintiff.

Superior Judge William H. Waste, on motion of the defendant corporation, today granted a non-suit in the action brought by August Reigner, an incompetent, through his guardian, against the Realty Syndicate for $25,000 damages for personal injuries he sustained when he fell into Temescal creek on Realty Syndicate property, in Emeryville. The injuries Reigner received, it was alleged in the complaint, caused him to become insane.

Testimony for plaintiff developed the fact that it was a public culvert into which Reigner fell and Judge Waste held that the Realty Syndicate could not be held responsible for the alleged murder of Charles Rollars, the defendant was mentioned as "Editor and owner of the Lodi Sentinel." Mr. Axtell is not connected with the Lodi Sentinel at present, having disposed of his interest in that paper in June of this year.

CASE OF DRINK GET OFF SWEEPER

Just a Tale of U. of C. Men and an Early Morning Shift.

As a farewell problem to be studied in leisure in the wilds of Oregon, the city council this morning referred to Commissioner of Health and Safety
Fred C. Turner the matter of arbitrating between Joseph Martin, sanitary street sweeper, a band of university or high school students and a number of property owners who have become involved in a triangular tangle. New creases furrowed the brow of the commissioner as he hesitatingly accepted the task.

Joe Martin, who holds a contract with the city to sweep the streets with three large mechanical sweepers, has several men working for him. This morning Martin complained to the city council that students interfere with his men.

"They catch my men about 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning," said Martin to the council. "They climb on the street sweeper with a big bottle of whisky and they force my men to drink enough whisky to make them drunk. If they do not take the drink, they beat up the driver. Three times they attacked my men in two weeks.
I will not stand for this. I got to have protection."

Simultaneously with the filing of the complaint from Martin, communications were received by property owners whose numbers are disturbed at night by Martin's men shouting at their horses while sweeping the streets.

Martin attempted to explain the auditory disabilities of a horse and the necessity for the particular language used by the drivers in directing horsepower. He was interrupted by Commissioner John Forrest, who this morning presided over the council.
Said Forrest with a smile:

"We will refer the entire matter to Commissioner Turner for adjustment in the most expeditious manner."

EXPOSITION CO. WELL ORGANIZED

Preliminary Work for Big Fair Running Smoothly as a Clock.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The Panama-Pacific Exposition company has completed the organization of all its departments in their new building at Battery and Pine streets, and from now on everything will run in clockwork order. So have the officials and so many are the telephone calls that it may be necessary to install two operators to care for this end of the company's affairs alone.
If the present rate of progress keeps up,
it will not be long before the dirt is flying and buildings being read to make the 1915 fair seem at last a reality.

The Philippine Islands purpose to have a special exhibit at the exposition, and M. S. Lowenstein has become their booster for the fair. Yesterday, after a conference with R. B. Hale, he told of the friendship and feeling of comradeship which the islands have for California.

BABY BOY IN HOME OF A. B. SPRECKELS

Little Lad Arrives On Monday Last, to Be Heir to Millions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The many friends of the family are congratulating Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Spreckels upon the advent in their home last Monday of a baby boy. The infant weighed twelve and a half pounds and both it and the mother are reported by the attending doctors to be doing nicely.

This is the second child born to Mr.
Spreckels and his wife, the first one being a girl, now a little over 2 years of age. A new home is being built for the family at Washington and Octavia streets and ere long the baby boy will be taken there.

The infant has been born in the lap of luxury, for its father is generally credited with being one of the nine richest men in California.

SANTA CLARA UNLOADS HER CARGO OF SALMON

One of Alaska Packers Fleet Discharges and Is Laid Up in Mud; Oakland Waterfront Lively

After discharging her cargo of salmon at the Alaska Packers Association's San Francisco warehouse the ship Santa Clara, which returned from the Alaskan fisheries last week was towed in by the Redstock company's tug Sea Hawk and Sea Fox and laid up in the mud with the rest of the company's fleet at Alameda.

The Santa Clara is in charge of Captain Edmund who reports that although the later part of the season was rather stormy and cold, the trip was a whole great success from a seaman's standpoint and also from a financial point.

The government tug Captain Webb went on dry dock at the Pacific Shipyards and Ways company, on the Alameda side of the harbor yesterday afternoon. After having some carpenter work attended to and her bottom scraped and painted the tug left the harbor for Angel Island where she will join the other government vessels in port.

The government transports in port at present are the Buford, Crook, Thomas and Shaler.

The scow schooner Tartar was towed into port this morning by the launch Eugene and laid up at the foot of Grove street, where she is discharging a cargo of hay for E. S. Smith.

The Standard Oil company's oil tanker Contra Costa is at the foot of Harrison street, discharging a quantity of oil for the Central Oakland Light and Power company.

With a good sized raft of piles in tow
the tug Tullie W. arrived at the wharf and went up to East Oakland where she deposited her cargo at boom on the Alameda side of the estuary.

The tug Valiant towed the barge Ruth filled with sand to the Park street wharf where she is discharging her cargo for the Rhodes-Jameson company.

The steam schooner Chetah, Captain Kittelson, from Gray's Harbor is at long wharf discharging 140,000 feet of lumber.

The steam schooner San Pedro, Captain Benedictson, arrived this morning from Eureka and laid alongside Long wharf where she is discharging 200,000 feet of lumber.

The tug Aurora, Captain Christensen, was made without accident, Captain Benedictson reporting that the weather was remarkably fine, although a long westerly swell was running during the entire run.

The schooner Queen, Captain Gorgan, is at long wharf discharging 55,000 feet of lumber.

Owing to the fact that the Isleton breakers are discharging her cargo of river she was unable to take her regular run yesterday. In her stead the river steamer Aurora, Captain Christensen, will do the river work until the Isleton comes off the ways.

The steam schooner Homer, which for the past few months has been idle in the mud off Alameda was taken from her position in the mud this morning by the Oakland Launch and Tugboat company's tug Dixie and Pirate and towed to the United Engineering Works where she will be put on the ways and overhauled. She will probably be used to carry lumber up and down the coast.

The tug Pat, towed by the wharf-head from her position in the mud off Alameda where she laid up after her return from the Alaskan fisheries out of this port. Captain Love of the Pilot was the principal actor in a thrilling drama last week when he saved a young man from drowning in the bay off San Francisco.

The Oakland Launch and Tugboat company's tug Panama towed the scow schooner Plute from the city wharf at the foot of Grove street to the Presidio where she will take on cord wood for the A. B. Weeks company.

The gas tug Modoc towed out the barge Modoc this morning for Tiburon where the barge will be loaded with hay for Ward & Meeker of Alameda.

The steam schooner Despatch, Captain
Reese, is at the De Fremery wharf, East

MICROBES IN THE STOMACH

Mean Dyspepsia and Death, and May Cause Stomach and Nerve Ailments.

Professor Munyon Wants All Afflicted to Come to His Offices.

Indigestion has baffled the skill of the medical world in all times. Temporary relief has been the most physicians have been able to give.

Millions have gone through life suffering the torments of the damned, such as belching of wind, sour stomach, palpitation of the heart, shooting pains in the stomach, dizziness, constipation, distress after eating, sleeplessness and melancholy.

A sick stomach is responsible for not only rheumatism and kidney ailments, but nearly every other disease.
When the stomach is diseased its food properly the liver and bowels do their duty, the nerves are fed with good, rich blood and the whole system is stimulated, strengthened and energized.

Professor Munyon claims that his remedies will eliminate these little parasites and will correct nearly every form of stomach, liver and nerve trouble. He says the worst obstacle he has to overcome is doubt, for many have spent so much money drugging themselves with all sorts of nostrums that they have little faith in anything new that is offered. "I want people," he says, "to come to me with full expectation of getting well."

In many cases, Professor Munyon says, all medicines can be discarded after the first ten days. In rheumatic troubles his remedies neutralize the uric acid so quickly that a complete cure is generally made in a few hours.

Sharp, shooting pains, swollen limbs and stiff joints, lame back, disappear as if by magic. The best of all, this treatment contains no morphine, opium, cocaine, salicylic acid or any harmful drug. On the contrary, it is beneficial to the stomach, heart and nerves.

His Improved Paw Paw Tonic, for the stomach and nerves, which he has designated as the Elixir of Life, is making scores of converts in this city.
It seems to have the power of digesting everything put into the stomach and is a wonderful tonic for the weak and nervous.

Professor Munyon says he hopes every sufferer from stomach, liver or nerve ailment will call at his offices here, and he is especially anxious that every person suffering from rheumatism, no matter how chronic, will give his rheumatic treatment a trial, because he believes it will banish cause and condition forever.—Adv.

WAR PREVENTS A CITIZEN'S RETURN

Wealthy San Franciscan Has All Sorts of Trouble in Italy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. — Detained literally because of the war which is raging in Europe and because his passports did not specify that he was a citizen of his children, S. B. Ragaglia, a wealthy wholesale butcher of this city, has had a few months of trouble to bring about the release of himself and his family, and so far has not been able to leave for home.

Ragaglia left on a pleasure trip with his wife and two children, and all went merrily until he wanted to leave Lutta in Italy for home. It was then that the question of his children being born in Italy came up, and owing to the war, the authorities detained the little family, paroling them until they could establish that their children were born in the United States.

Ragaglia has written and cabled, and had a lot of trouble, but finally, today, papers were showing the certificate of baptism in the Corpus Christi church, the court seal showing the birth of the children, and the Ragaglia family was allowed to return to the United States.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

CADET CORPS TO BE HOST AT BALL TONIGHT

The First Congregational Cadet Corps of Oakland will give its second cadet assembly of a series of four fall and winter dances this evening at the cadet armory at Eleventh and Market streets.

The invitations, which were restricted to 200, have been sent out to the younger set of this city and vicinity and a very enjoyable evening is looked for.

A well known orchestra of Oakland will furnish the music for the occasion. The dance committee includes Roland Springer and Lloyd N. Cobblewick.

A short fancy drill of "guard mount" will precede the informal dance, and will be participated in by the entire company of cadets.

The cadet band, newly organized, has already held four rehearsals under a capable band master and is fast becoming very efficient. The membership includes thirty cadets separate from the cadet company, and needs but five more alto horns to be complete.

FLORIST FREED OF CHARGE OF BATTERY

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—A technical charge of battery against Antone Avanisino, a Shattuck avenue florist, which had been sworn to by A. C. Sherman, father of 7-year-old Geraldine Sherman, was dismissed this morning by Justice of the Peace Robert Edgar, upon motion of Deputy District Attorney Rogers.

During the trial, the ex-lady recently disagreed in the trial of this charge, and the case was up for retrial today.

Attorney H. W. Brunk made a motion for a new trial in the case prosecuted by the mother of 6-year-old June Rhodes, following the conviction of Avansino by a jury a week ago. Brunk submitted an affidavit sworn to by Jacob Baum, one of the jurors, who declared that he was sued to vote for conviction by other jurors, with the understanding that a light fine was to be imposed, but that he would present affidavits of the same kind from five others out of the jury of ten men who sat in the case, when the matter comes up for retrial tomorrow.

boys of the different departments of the association have proved very interesting

BACK TO THE SOIL! IS SLOGAN OF PUPILS

Back to the soil! is the slogan of the children of the fifth grade of the Franklin school, who are studying landscape gardening. The boys and girls are planting seeds for spring flowers, to bloom later in the private grounds of Miss Sel-lander's home, in East Oakland. It was through the efforts of Miss Sellander that the gardening idea was made possible in the Franklin school, as she pleaded with the school directors to allow her to escort the pupils to her gardens, where the practical work is being accomplished.

About fifty youngsters worked on the grounds yesterday under the direction of Miss Sellander, one of the special teachers in the department. They declare that it is not only helpful study but is one of the most interesting branches taught in the local schools.

The President at Morgantown.

Hon. Martin W. Littleton certainly got a rise out of President Taft when he advocated repealing the Sherman anti-trust law, to a sympathetic audience the President was billed to address. Mr. Littleton was vigorously cheered by the crowd, but the gentlemen who cheered him got some talk straight from the shoulder that they are not likely to forget soon, nor will the wider audience of the nation fail to take notice of what the President said nor the meaning of the political comedy staged at Morgantown, West Virginia.

President Taft did not mince words. He told his hearers plainly that he believed the Sherman law was a good law and that he intended to enforce it. What it is intended to punish and prevent, he said, is combinations of capital to stifle competition and establish monopolies. This ought to be prevented, he declared, and in his opinion the Sherman law properly enforced would prevent it.

Then he pointedly asked his hearer to name a single trust prosecuted by the government that was not guilty of stifling competition and restraining trade. Of course nobody named one. There is none to be named. Every trust is organized to restrain trade and stifle competition. The gentlemen engaged in that business cheered Mr. Littleton because he wants to repeal the Sherman law, which is breaking up monopolies.

If Mr. Littleton is not sorry that he provoked the President to make the declaration he did, his party associates have reason to be. Mr. Littleton is a Tammany Democrat. He is an adroit politician from the Tammany standpoint, but he made a stupendous blunder when he attempted to put the President in a hole at Morgantown. He got something he was not looking for, and, incidentally, the country got an illuminating glimpse of the political scene-shifting going on at the back of the stage.

Mr. Littleton professes to be opposed to the trusts, but he wants to repeal the Sherman Act, under the authority of which the supreme Court has just ordered the dissolution of the Standard Oil and Tobacco trusts; and the trusts magnates who are complaining against the President because of the prosecutions instituted against them cheer Mr. Littleton's sentiments.

But note what the President stands for. It is not the law merely, but a purpose which he states in as clear, positive terms as can be framed in speech. He believes in this law because it will strike down monopoly and restore liberty to trade, and he declares his intention to enforce it. Mr. Littleton wants to repeal the law the moment it is made effective. President Taft is determined to enforce it because it is effective. But if Mr. Littleton gained no advantage for his party he has done the country a service. He has illuminated the political situation.

It is conceded that the women voters will decide the Los Angeles mayoralty contest at the regular election in December. They could not vote at the primary, and the Socialist candidate ran 3367 ahead of the incumbent, who is the candidate of the Good Government League and the state administration. It will make some people do a lot of hard thinking if the women should, at the very first opportunity after getting the ballot, turn the government of the second city in the state over to the Socialists.

Not So Ignorant as Represented.

The San Francisco Call makes this statement—made by somebody whose name is not given—the text for an editorial article on Chinese affairs: "When Yuan Shi Kai was made viceroy of Shantung shortly before the Boxer uprising he had never seen a modern rifle; he had never looked at the inside of a military textbook."

In "Court Life in China," Dr. Isaac Taylor Headland, professor in the University of Peking, says that in 1898 Yuan was in command of 12,500 troops armed and drilled in the European fashion by German officers. It was this body of troops that the Kuang Hsu, the Emperor deposed that year by the Empress Dowager, attempted to use in carrying out the reforms he had projected. For disobeying his orders and betraying his plans and assisting in the emperor's overthrow, Yuan was rewarded with the Shantung viceroyship.

When the Boxer movement had become formidable he put an end to it in his province by a device peculiarly Oriental. He invited all the Boxer leaders to a banquet, and after he had feasted them and heard all about their plans he had them taken out and shot. In the Boxer war that followed Yuan avoided taking any part. He protected the Europeans and Americans in his province and gave no support to the court which espoused the Boxer cause, betraying the Empress Dowager as he had betrayed his former master.

It may be that he never saw a modern rifle while he commanded a division equipped with modern arms and drilled by European officers, but it is most unlikely. Although he had never been out of China, he was singularly alert to what was going on in the outside world, and while he intrigued with the reactionaries to advance his own fortunes he was careful to keep on the good side of the foreigners residing in the empire.

New York has found out that Philadelphia is not such a sleepy old town after all. She may be slow in some things, but she stands at the head of the class in baseball. Her team batted little old New York's crack pitcher all over the yard and ran off with the pennant in a gallop. Gotham is not the whole show—not yet.

British Clamor at Italian Atrocities.

Our English cousins are uproariously indignant at the Italians for the cruel slaughter they have made of Arabs in Tripoli. It is a way the British have. They are forever complaining about the inhumanity and barbarity of other nations, but they are not so particular about their own conduct.

During the War of the Revolution the British humanely armed the Indians and incited them to harry the American border. The story of the raids and massacres that followed still excites shuddering horror. History tells how that pink of English soldiers, Major St. Léger led a band of painted savages against the northern frontier, his line of march being marked by burned homes and murdered settlers. Neither age nor sex was spared. Again in the war of 1812 did the British arm and incite the savages of the Northwest to ravage the frontier.

The Irish still recall with clenched hands and hot hearts the dreadful massacres which followed the battle of Vinegar Hill, in the rebellion of 1798, the awful sack of Drogheda and the indiscriminate slaughter after the battle of Aghrim.

All the world knows how England protected the Turks when they were practicing the most horrible atrocities on the Christian inhabitants of the Balkan states; how sepoy were blown from the mouths of cannon after the rebellion in India and with what terrible ferocity the blacks of South Africa were treated for the crime of defending their country from British invasion; and the barbarities visited on the Chinese for refusing to allow the importation of opium from British India.

It makes a great difference whose ox is gored. With the English the difference is greater than with most any other civilized nation. They are not only a law unto themselves, but they insist upon laying down the moral law to other nations. They have never ceased to express horror and indignation at the massacre of the Albigenses in Piedmont, but the still greater massacre of the Irish at Drogheda, almost contemporaneous, excited neither horror nor compunction in England. The British indignation at the Italians today is merely an expression of British Pharisism, an exhibition of national hypocrisy.

It is lucky for Los Angeles that the fight for Mayor was not confined to Harriman and Alexander in the primary. But for the fact that there was a strong third candidate in the field Harriman would probably have been elected at the preliminary poll—not because Harriman is a strong man or a desirable candidate, but because of the public dissatisfaction with Alexander and the machine of which he is the creature. The large vote cast for Harriman was in the nature of a rebuke to the Alexander administration. A majority of the men who voted for Harriman did so to express their disapproval of the "Uncle Aleck" oligarchy.

Nat Goodwin says marriage is a business. Even so, it is a business in which he has played a part that is neither admirable nor successful—in short, he has failed in it. But what is the use of discussing the ethics of marriage with a man who has so low a conception of its duties and responsibilities as Nat Goodwin? Men of his sort degrade the marriage relation. With them it is a vehicle of animal instinct and low desire instead of a bond of devotion between the sexes based upon the noblest of human sentiments. Nat Goodwin is a goat morally, and seems to have proved himself a goat matrimonially.

JEWISH ORDERS UNITE

A permanent organization of Jewish fraternal orders, representing 1,200,000 members in eleven orders, has been effected under the name of the National Jewish Fraternal Congress, to work for the establishment of uniform insurance rates, somewhat in excess of the present rates, which have been found inadequate, but lower than the rates recently agreed upon in the Mobile bill by insurance commissioners of various states and delegates of the National Fraternal congress.

The orders represented in the new organization are the Independent Order of Brith Abraham, Order of Brith Abraham, Independent Order of Free Sons of Judah, Ahavath Israel, Brith Shalom, Order of King Solomon, Workmen's Circle of New York, Sons of Zion, Order of the Western Star of Chicago, Independent Order of Sons of Joseph, and Sons of Jacob. Four other orders, representing 225,000 members, are to join the congress. They are the Independent Order of Free Sons of Israel, Sons of Benjamin, Knights of Joseph and Progressive Order of the West.

The officers of the new association are: President, Leon Sanders, who is grand master of the Independent Order of Brith Abraham; vice-president, Sam Dorf, grand master of the Order of Brith Abraham; secretary, Sigmund Fodor, secretary of the Free Sons of Judah, and treasurer, Dr. S. R. Schultz, of the Order of Brith Shalom.

The new organization will take an active part also in Jewish interests in general and in the familiarizing of immigrants with American conditions and institutions, with a view to making American citizens of them. Subcommittees have been appointed to port plans for the branches of the work to the orders at their individual conventions.—New York Times.

MUCK-RAKING THE HEROES

Muck-rakers continue to tamper with the sacred things of history. Last year the character of various eminent patriots of the Revolution was impugned in Boston. The stirring words are cut in a boulder on Lexington Green for the region discredit is cast on the brave speech of Capt. John Parker to the minute-men at Lexington: "Stand your ground. Don't fire unless fired upon. But if they mean to have a war, let it begin here."

The authenticity of Capt. Parker's order rests on family tradition and the testimony of his grandson, the Rev. Theodore Parker. The stirring words are cut in a boulder on Lexington Green for the region discredit is cast on the brave speech of Capt. John Parker to the minute-men at Lexington: "Stand your ground. Don't fire unless fired upon. But if they mean to have a war, let it begin here."

But these are the very incidents of history that the world most wants to believe, and it has scant patience with those who would disillusionize it. It is not unlikely that the sceptics of a future generation will question Dewey's order to Gridley at Manila Bay. At the rate with which the refutation of the cherished legends is progressing, a need is indicated for a society for the preservation of the picturesque in history against the vandalism of the investigators.—New York World.

SERMONS IN BRIEF

THE KIND OF CHURCH JESUS WANTS.

(By Rev. E. J. Bradner, pastor of Grace M. E. Church.)

"The common people heard Him gladly."—Mark 12:37.

Every Christian should be a little Christ. Every church should be a body of united Christians, each endeavoring to be to the world of today what Jesus was to the world in His day. Any church having less for its ideal, has no right to expect the approval of good men or of God. It cannot succeed in winning men from their evil ways. It becomes like a lighthouse on a rocky coast without a lamp. Worse, it becomes the laughing stock of the dying that it has come to save, both perishing together.

What was Jesus to his day? It is said of Him that He went about doing good. Notice the crowd that Jesus had about him. The poor, the sick, the friendless and the outcast. He fed the hungry and He healed the sick. He became a friend to the friendless and received the outcast. One of the charges against Him was that he ate with publicans and sinners. Life revolved Zacheus, a social outcast, as a friend in the presence of a multitude, and Zacheus was so touched by this kindness that he renounced his sin, and reformed. Jesus refused to condemn a woman who was a sinner, but by bearing with her for the time being he won her to a better life.

The mission of every church is to carry out this program and to continue in this age what Jesus began so long ago. It has no other work. Every church should ask itself, "Is this church a church of Jesus Christ?" It is a question that men are asking about the churches, and it is a question that every one has a right to ask. Not what it was, but what it is; not what it has been doing, but what it is now doing; these are the things men want to know about today.

Unless a church is doing Jesus' work it has no right to be called a church of Jesus Christ, and in proportion to the amount of work of that stamp a church does, has it a right to be called a church of Jesus Christ?

There is yet a great work to be done. Jealousy, envy, strife still abound. Hate, discord, war, social impurity, drunkenness, licentiousness—these evils and many others, all of which would disappear, if all were like Christ, are still with us. These open sores cannot be cured without the Christ spirit.

Bachelor Musings

The aeroplane joke is apt to fall flat. It is never too late to learn that it is too late.

Even the self-made man may feel that he has cheated himself.

It takes a blacksmith to shoe a horse, but anybody can shoe a hen.

Peeling the Face

(From Modern Housekeeping.) Women are beginning to realize how dangerous and how unnecessary is the painful and expensive surgical operation known as "face-peeling." Many clever society women noted for their exquisite beauty accomplish the desired result themselves at home, with perfect safety and no pain, expense or detention indoors. They simply use ordinary mercialized wax, which can be obtained at almost any drug store. It is applied at night, like cold cream and washed off in the morning. The mercialized wax slowly absorbs the half-dead outer skin, causing it to flake off day by day in fine, almost imperceptible particles like flour. The fresh, vigorous young skin underneath soon shows forth, blooming radiantly with health and beauty. The face begins to look years younger, though the use of the process absolutely defies detection by the closest observer.

Naturally this process also removes all such minor facial blemishes as freckles, tan, moth patches, liver spots, fine wrinkles, pimples, etc.

REMARKABLE CRIMES

Every generation has its remarkable crimes—incidents so out of the ordinary that they impress themselves indelibly upon the memory not only of the immediate circle affected, but of the entire country as well.

Recently two murders have been revealed that are so much out of the ordinary that they may take their place in the current comment of the day as the most fascinating blood-mysteries of the year.

The first occurred at New Orleans, where a young woman—shrinking, near-sighted, physically enfeebled—was arrested, charged with the murder of her sister.

Investigation pointed to a possibility that this timid woman also had given a fatal dose to her father and another sister.

When taken into custody she calmly admitted giving morphine to her sister, but declared she had done so by error and feared to confess her mistake. She made her confession in a calm voice and did not appear to be affected either by its serious consequences to her victim or to herself.

In Illinois, a young doctor murdered a woman whom he had bigamously married seven days after his first wedding. He calmly declared that his victim knew of his previous marriage, but was importunate and that he married her to please her, on condition that later she should go through the formality of obtaining a divorce.

She did not do so. He declares he loved the woman he married first. In the end he took wife No. 2 into the suburbs of Dixon, Ill., and stabbed her repeatedly in the throat. Then he covered her body with leaves and grove off.

We are accustomed to looking into fiction to find our Borgias and Bluebeards. Yet there is no product of the story-teller's art more grotesquely mysterious than these cases. They really are remarkable crimes—the sort that make a thoughtful man or woman ponder whether the race has advanced materially from the darkness of the middle ages.—Seattle Times.

WHAT ONE WOMAN DID

Ida M. Lewis, whose death in the Lime Rock lighthouse she had tended for fifty years is announced, was denied many of the things that made life worth while for women. Her girlhood was lonesome and somber. Her marriage was a failure. The narrowness and isolation of the work to which fate assigned her might seem a bar to a career, and still she became one of the most famous women of her generation. Eighteen of her rescues of persons imperiled by the waves were made under circumstances described as heroic. This remarkable woman had received, among her many honors, the thanks of Congress, which in few other cases have been more worthily bestowed.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

All ladies interested in the doll fete to be given Friday evening, December 4, in the brigade hall of the First Presbyterian Church, in aid of the Young Women's Christian Association home, are requested to attend the parlor meeting at the residence of Mrs. J. M. Merrill.

The money to be spent this winter in construction and equipping electric and cable roads into and through this city will amount to something like a million dollars. That looks like progress, doesn't it?

Henry Kerton of Marysville has been spending this week with friends and relatives in Berkeley.

Lovers of good music will undoubtedly be satisfied at the Berkeley Athenaeum piano recital in assembly hall tomorrow. The relative of Bishop William Taylor, the noted Methodist missionary, have received a letter from him in which he relates a strange experience he had at Rotterdam, Holland. He was on his way from Africa to England on business, connected with a new missionary boat he is having built and lodged for a night at a hotel. When he awoke in the morning he was covered with blood and could not account for his strange condition. It is thought that he was sand-bagged while asleep for the purpose of robbery. His injuries were not serious.

OLD-TIME REMEDY DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair; Dandruff Quickly Removed.

From time immemorial, sage and sulpur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost everyone knows the value of such a combination for darkening the hair, for curing dandruff and falling hair, and for making the hair grow. In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this sort, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulpur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the remedy will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

If you have dandruff, or if your hair is turning gray or coming out, don't delay, but get a bottle of this remedy today, and see what a few days' treatment will do for you.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Carl Drugstores, 18th and Broadway, Washington and 10th streets, 16th and San Pablo avenue.

J. RUFUS' CREATOR RUNS INTO LAW

Discovers He Is Technical Bigamist and Has Scare of His Life.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—"Get-hitched-quick!" Chester is what all his actor and author friends are calling George Randolph Chester about the "Lamb" Club and along Broadway after the creator of "Get-Rich-Quick" Wallingford arrived in port on the Kronprinz Wilhelm with wife No. 2.

The reason for the name was that wife No. 1, Elizabeth M. Chester, is still his wife. She obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce on October 11, which will not be confirmed until January 11.

The novelist married Lillian Deremo, who was named as co-respondent in the divorce case in Paris October 12. Therefore, technically he committed bigamy. He did not realize it until he reached Hoboken and the ship news reporters told him.

Then he was badly frightened for a time and hesitated about coming over into New York State. But after consultation with his attorneys he decided to chance the trip and later, learning that his first wife did not intend to take any action against him he became somewhat reassured. But he did not bring Mrs. Chester No. 2 over with him.

DENIES HIS IDENTITY.

When the Kronprinz Wilhelm arrived the ship news men saw on her passenger list "Herr G. Chester," and below this "Frau G. Chester." This was a surprise, inasmuch as the novelist has never been right to marry until next year. He appeared on the deck with a slightly built young woman, who was very pretty, but also very pale and apparently nervous.

"I'm not the Chester you want," the novelist said first. "I'm not the 'Wallingford' Chester."

But the newspaper man knew him and laughed him out of his denial. Finally he admitted his identity and said: "Yes, boys, I'm married. Miss Deremo and I were married October 12, the day after the first Mrs. Chester divorced me in this country."

"But don't you know that you had no right to marry until ninety days after the divorce—that, in fact, you have committed bigamy?" he was asked.

"Bigamy!" he exclaimed. "Great God! Lord. You're not kidding me, are you? What shall I do?"

Some one facetiously remarked that the next ship back to Europe was not a bad idea, and Chester could wait for the three months' period to expire.

"I don't want to do that," he said. "I'm homesick and I want to get to New York. But, say, this is awful!"

MILLIONAIRE HIHN ON WITNESS STAND ALL DAY

SAN JOSE, Nov. 2.—Accounting for small items in his expense account as the executor of the estate of the late Alice Eastland of Los Gatos, F. A. Hihn, the millionaire lumberman of Santa Cruz, passed the day yesterday on the witness stand in the Probate Court. Efforts to settle up the estate, which has been in the course of probate for several years, have been halted during the past two years by the fight of the heirs, Thomas B. Eastland of New York and Joseph L. Eastland of San Francisco over the expense accounts of Hihn. Something over $1000 is involved. The matter will be continued at the next session of the Probate Court.

'KIDS' BLAMED FOR DYNAMITING CAR

Hallowe'en Prank Is the Way U. R. R. Explains Explosion.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—What is characterized as the prank of some fun-loving youngsters who wanted to carry their Hallowe'en celebration over a second day almost resulted in a serious accident when a car of the United Railroads was wrecked and the roadbed torn up in an explosion of dynamite at 9 o'clock last night. A large cemetery car of the suburban type carrying two score of men and women passengers was lifted from the track and rails were twisted and cobbles torn from their places.

The explosion occurred on Mission street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth and that no one was injured was due to the fact that the dynamite caps were spread and not all placed in one pile. An investigation by the United Railroads detective department and regular upper office men, conducted this morning, convinced them that the explosion was merely the prank of small boys.

Detective Michael Burk of the Mission station said:

"Recently a large number of dynamite caps were found by children in this neighborhood and it is now believed that some of them thought it would be funny to put them on the car tracks, not realizing the havoc that would be wrought."

"Our investigation convinces us that boys, still carrying out the Hallowe'en celebration, were responsible for the dynamiting of the car last night," declared an official of the general manager's office of the United Railroads. "We believe that there was nothing malicious in the attempt to wreck the car."

The car was out-bound in charge of Motorman Barrie and Conductor Carlson and both platform men had all they could do to calm the frightened passengers. Many persons were thrown to the floor of the car, but no one was seriously injured.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS EDNA WEARIES

OF NAT'S TALK

"He Reviews Wives Like P. T. Barnum Did Circus," She Tells Public.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—"And to think what a great actor Mr. Goodwin used to be!"

Edna Goodrich made this comment as she sadly shook her head, while she read the scathing criticisms made of her by Nat Goodwin in an interview with the actor, her former husband, in Oklahoma City.

"I see he says of his wives, 'Edna Goodrich is the worst. She could not act. My marriage with her was a frame-up, a motherly interest.'"

"Then he either married me because he loved me or because he looked upon me as a 'good business proposition.' If the latter, then I certainly had some claims to acting."

"I am sure I have never said anything unkind of him. I am through with him; he is a part of my life that has gone glimmering."

"What suit he instituted brought me back from France. Not that there was any chance of his winning it, but I felt that I should be here. It is utterly impossible for him to go back on his contracts with me. Financially, he cannot disturb me. Of course, these tirades on me are tiresome, but may be he will get over it some day."

"Would you consider returning to the stage in a play with 'Mr. Goodwin'?"

"How absurd! Nevertheless, I suppose if given a selection he would propose 'The Taming of the Shrew,' laughingly said the beautiful young woman.

She Holds Sack

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 2.—Prince Victor of Thurn and Taxis, bearer of one of the greatest names and former bearer of some of the greatest debts of Europe, author of the "Taxis" romance, once a defendant in a woman's suit to recover money she said she lent him to help him win an American beauty, was married yesterday to Mrs. Lydia Eleanor Fitzgerald, former wife of General Gerald Fitzgerald of Ireland.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, niece of J. V. Thompson, the multi-millionaire banker and coal operator, possessor of millions in her own right, heroine of the unusual Pullman car romance, is the daughter of a noted and noted on two continents for her beauty, is the woman who declared last July that she would marry the errand boy and redeem him.

And she has entered upon the realization of this ambition with due caution. The marriage took place only after a deed of separation of property had been drawn up by which the new princess will retain control of her American wealth.

Cause Wanes

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 2.—The cause of suffrage is on the wane at Radcliffe. This was proved in a substantial manner recently by a vote taken by the students, in which one-seventh of the body favored suffrage and another seventh opposed it. A third seventh, based on indifference, while four-sevenths of the girls did not bother to cast their votes.

Members of the Radcliffe Woman's Equal Suffrage Club, finding that the heresy had even invaded their own ranks, and noting the attitude of the college body on the "cause," decided to challenge their name to that of the Radcliffe Citizens' Club and to bolster up their ranks by admitting members of the Consumers' League and Municipal Club.

The newly formed organization desired to use the same constitution which governs equal suffrage leagues, with a change or two, but when a search was made for it it could not be found. Miss C. Rawley, a graduate student, is president of the Citizens' Club.

Bourbons Scared

COLUMBIA, Nov. 2.—Because in this battle over the country's future the first nine women who registered as voters were Republicans, the Democratic party leaders were somewhat worried lest the success of the equal suffrage cause should end the power of their party in this country. If it had been so, it would appear as if there were no Democratic women in the country when Mrs. Francis A. Van Winkle, 6 years of age, appeared and registered as a Democrat. She is the daughter of the late Major Stephen Cooper, a pioneer who participated in the earliest political movements of the Golden State.

Suicide Compact

WOOSTER, O., Nov. 2.—What appears to have been a suicide compact developed yesterday when Rufus Billard, aged 22, was found dead in Wooster cemetery with an empty strychnine bottle by his side. Miss Carmen Humphrey, aged 19 years, to whom Billard was engaged, died in convulsions the night before at her home after returning from a Hallowe'en party. Billard left a note saying:

"Dear Mother: Forgive me. Bury us together—Rufus."

High Society Here

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Edwin Janss, formerly Miss Florence Cluff of Menlo Park, was the joint honoree yesterday with Mrs. Harold Janss, also a recent bride, in the largest high society reception ever given in this city. Five hundred guests were in the ballroom of the Hotel Alexandria.

Mrs. William Cluff of San Francisco and Mrs. J. C. Wilson, mother and sister respectively of the former Miss Cluff, were two of the handsomely gowned women in the throng, and both were in the receiving line. Later a dinner party was given by Mrs. Peter Janss and Mrs. Harold Janss, mother and sister of Dr. Edwin Janss, who was also hostess in the afternoon. Mrs. Edwin Janss wore her wedding gown of white satin and lace in the afternoon, and in the evening a pink chiffon embroidered in gold.

FREED OF BLAME FOR FLYNN DEATH

Policeman Hearne Killed Man in Self Defense, Ruling of the Chief.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—After spending a night in detention in the city prison, Policeman Emil Hearne, who, while defending himself, killed Edward Flynn last night, was released and exonerated this morning.

Captain of Police Duke, after examining nineteen witnesses to the fight between Hearne and Flynn, who was known as a "bad man" in the Latin Quarter, came to the conclusion that the officer was blameless and Chief of Police White ordered his release.

Hearne, who is one of the best patrolmen and a member of the Barbary Coast squad, has one of the most dangerous beats in the city and was detailed last night to watch a suspected gambling resort at Green and Kearny street. While he was peering through a side door Flynn accosted him, called him names and dared him to fight, and the officer followed him into a saloon.

The enraged man picked up a box and made at the policeman, who drew his sword. Self-defense, unfortunately, he struck Flynn in the temple and the man died soon after he was placed on the operating table at the emergency hospital.

WINS $1000 WAGER BY 511-MILE RIDE

Percy Selby Completes Long Journey in Less Than Nine Days.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—In completing last night a ride of 511 miles on horseback in less than nine days, Percy Selby, member of the Burlingame Country Club, has won a wager of $1000 from Harry Simpkins, a flower clubman, has maintained his contention that he could make a long ride in less than nine days.

The trip was made from Burlingame to Nipomo and return, a distance of 511 miles, and was originally undertaken to make the $1000 wager, the time limit being ten days. Selby left Burlingame Tuesday, October 24, at 8 a. m., arriving at his destination Wednesday, November 1, at 7:40 p. m., just thirty-six hours ahead of time. The longest single day's ride was 87.7 miles and the shortest 20.3.

Immediately upon the completion of the trip a check for $1000 was presented to Selby on behalf of Simpkins, who was unavoidably absent from the clubhouse, the manager of the institution officiating in behalf of the loser and conveying his heartfelt congratulations to the winner.

GERMS IN HER SYSTEM

Every Woman Should Read This Advice and the Generous Offer That Goes With It.

The number of diseases peculiar to women is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a mere mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of catarrh in her system.

Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this to be a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of cost in every instance where it fails to give satisfaction. With this understanding, no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test.

There is only one way to overcome catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the snuffs, douches or like remedies for years without getting more than temporary relief at best. Catarrh in general is a diseased condition of the system that shows locally most frequently in discharges from mucous membranes. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition if a complete cure is to be reached. The internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

Recall Mucu-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescription of an eminent physician, who, thirty years made catarrh his specialty. This remedy is admirably adapted to the treatment of the catarrhal ailment of women. It purifies and enriches the blood, tends to stop mucous discharges, cleanses the system, and brings about a feeling of health and strength.

We want you to try Recall Mucu-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not benefited, or for any reason not satisfied, simply tell us and we will hand back your money. Recall Mucu-Tone comes in two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Recall Remedies only at the Owl Drug Co. stores in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle, Spokane.

$25,000 IS NAT'S MARRIAGE GIFT

Edna Goodrich Received a Big Sum Besides Share of the Actor's Income.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—T. H. Dudley, trustee, has filed his answer as co-defendant with Edna Goodrich to Nat Goodwin's suit to set aside the trust deed that Nat signed in August, 1908, in consideration of Edna's promise to marry him. The trustee does not intend the litigation further than to petition the court to pay him $5000 as fees for himself and for the costs of the case, before any disposition of the estate is made.

Dudley attaches an accounting, showing that Goodrich gave Edna Goodrich $25,000 in addition to the fund he had when he married the actress, notwithstanding the fact that she alleges that the trust deed was executed against his will and without his knowledge.

The account further shows that Edna has had from the estate $2999.99 as her share of the income, which was paid her between January, 1909, and September, 1911. Part of the income from the trust is worth about $6000 a year, but with the steady appreciation of the property it appears from the accounting to have overdrawn his share of the income. He has received more than $47,000. By mutual consent, $25,000 of the income was applied to paying off a mortgage on the apartment house in San Francisco, part of the property.

The trustee says that he has in hand something like $661 with which to meet his own and his lawyers' claims.

GAME FARM'S WILD TURKEYS ARE SHIPPED

FRESNO, Nov. 2.—A consignment of 150 of the progeny of wild Mexican turkeys bred in captivity at the State game and fish commissioners' farm at Hayward, will be received this evening by trains by District Game Warden Ferguson to be distributed and liberated at various points in different sections of the reservation. The fifty birds will go on by train to Sanger, be transported via Dunlap, and will be free at Sampson Flats. The reserve birds will not be removed from the electric road and be conveyed to the park by a day's journey. A consignment of 150 birds was sent earlier during the year to the park and reports received are that the young birds have done exceedingly well.

Use TIZ-- Smaller Feet

Sore Feet, Tender Feet and Swollen Feet Cured Every Time. TIZ Makes Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

Do you know what you are doing when you look like that? Observe the different expressions due to frowns in the faces of other people. The scowl, given by two deep lines between the eyes; the worried look, resulting from a furrowed forehead; the sly expression, induced by squinting and causing tiny lines to radiate from the corner of the eye—all these, and more, are the result of frowns.

To obtain a clear, glowing complexion and all others—use a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered sassafras in a half pint of witch hazel. This immediately tightens the skin, affecting even the deepest wrinkles and crow's feet. It "fills up" not only the skin, but underlying tissue. There's no better treatment for paunch-like cheeks and neck. Any druggist can supply the ingredients.

OPERATING CHANGE IS TOLD BY CALVIN

Three Districts On the S. P. to Control Movements of Trains.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—With the turn of E. E. Calvin, vice president and general manager of the Southern Pacific Company, from a tour of inspection of the road yesterday announcement was made that the operating organization of the company as it was in 1904 has been reorganized.

There are now three operating districts on the Southern Pacific. The district which formerly included San Francisco, Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys territory, and which was known as the northern district, is to be known hereafter as the central district. It will include the Western, Coast, Stockton, Sacramento and Salt Lake divisions. The Shasta division, formerly a part of the northern district, becomes a division in a newly established district to be known as the northern, which will include the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon. The Shasta and Portland divisions, comprising the northern district, will have headquarters at Portland for the convenience of operation.

D. W. Campbell, formerly superintendent of the Oregon and Washington Navigation Company at Seattle, has been appointed general superintendent of the northern district. T. W. Younger becomes superintendent of motive power. F. L. Burckhalter becomes district engineer and A. E. Hutchinson purchasing agent.

The southern district, which is operated by General Superintendent H. V. Platt, will not be disturbed by the new order. The central district, formerly the northern, loses the Shasta division, but gains the Salt Lake division, which extends from Sparks, Nev., to Ogden, Utah. The Salt Lake division has been operated by the Oregon Short Line for the last seven years.

INSTRUCTOR NAMED FOR TROOPS OF CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 2.—First Lieutenant A. B. Dockery of the Fifth United States Cavalry, stationed at Honolulu, has been assigned to instruct the troops of the National Guard of this State. Adjutant General Forbes received the information from the War Department yesterday.

YELLOW FEVER IS FEARED.
HONOLULU, Nov. 2.—It is probable that an extra session of the legislature will be called here to handle the yellow fever situation. A mass meeting of citizens was held here yesterday and a committee of citizens appointed to co-operate with the health board in a campaign for exterminating mosquitoes. For this purpose the entire island will be distributed.

A Helpless Invalid

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is, it would almost seem, to blame for her own wretchedness. Read what this woman says:

Richmond, Mo.—"When my second daughter was eighteen months old I was pronounced a hopeless invalid by specialists. I had a consultation of doctors and they said I had a severe case of ulceration. I was in bed for ten weeks, had sinking spells, and was pronounced to be in a dangerous condition. My father insisted that we try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and brought me six bottles. I soon began to improve, and before it had all been taken I was as well and strong as ever—my friends hardly recognized me so great was the change."—Mrs. Woodson Branstetter, Richmond, Mo.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what another woman says:—

Jonesboro, Texas.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for myself and daughter, and consider it unequalled for all female diseases. I would not be without it for anything. I wish every mother in America could be persuaded to use it as there would be less suffering among our sex than I am always glad to speak a word of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you are at liberty to use this testimonial."—Mrs. James T. Lawrence, Jonesboro, Texas.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

PLAYWRIGHT HAD PURPOSE WHEN HE WROTE 'VALENTINE'

PHYLLIS SHERWOOD

Most playwrights have a definite purpose in mind when they set about writing a play. At least, that is the common supposition and the course they should pursue. After we have seen some plays we doubt whether or not this fact is general. At any rate, they should start out to accomplish some purpose and if they fail they have at least made the attempt. Some write to entertain, others to teach a lesson and still others, to secure a certain weekly per cent of the play's income. Paul Armstrong comes out and makes the assertion that he wrote "Allas Jimmy Valentine," which comes to the Macdonough tonight, with three major ideas in mind. First, he tried to show that certain classes of criminals are mildly insane; his second purpose was to expose the system by which perjured or discharged convicts are preyed upon by certain types of detectives who desire their services as stool pigeons; his third desire in writing the play was to portray graphically one or more instances where a criminal has been helped to better himself and forsake a life of crime through the good offices of others. Phyllis Sherwood is seen as the girl who helps Jimmy.

KNIGHTS TO CROSS BATS FOR CHARITY

Proceeds of Big Game Will Go to Home for Blind of St. Joseph's.

Great interest is being taken in the forthcoming baseball game for charity between Oakland Council No. 784 and California Council No. 880, Knights of Columbus. The proceeds of the game will go toward the St. Joseph's Home for the Blind, at Fortieth street and Telegraph avenue. The two teams will cross bats at Freeman's park, November 2, at 2:15 p. m.

The lineups have been chosen and Judge Thomas F. Graham, of San Francisco, who has been named as referee, will act as umpire. H. C. Capwell, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, is the first ball.

The lineup will be as follows:
Oakland Council—Dr. J. P. Slavich, p. L. Perrot, c. Joseph A. Kennedy, sub. J. J. Rigney, 2b. F. M. Cerini, 3b. F. L. McGilgan, ss. J. J. Flynn, rf. H. J. Chinn, cf. V. A. Doran, lf. E. Brown, sub.
California Council—Joseph Taaffe, p. John Gavin, c. Dr. J. G. Brady (captain) and J. John Egan, 2b. Fred Nippert, 3b. Thomas F. Ely, ss. John Gaffney, rf. D. F. Supple, cf. A. A. Becker, lf. Joseph Walsh and Paul Fay subs.

The committee in charge is composed as follows:
General chairman, H. J. Quinn, grand knight; press committee, Leo McCarthy; grounds, Joseph A. Kennedy and Joseph Kenny; program, J. D. McCarthy; printing, M. A. McInnis; team manager, F. E. McGilgan; physical director, Joseph J. Rosborough.

COL. CODY QUILTS SHOW BUSINESS

Announces Retirement From Public Life to Wyoming Big Horn.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 2.—Colonel William F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill") retired from public life last night. His show was packed off to winter quarters and his Indian will return to their tepees, while "Buffalo Bill" intends to spend his remaining years in the Wyoming Big Horn, where he helped make American history.

The sobriquet "Buffalo Bill" he earned in the early '80s when he contracted to furnish buffalo meat to the laborers building the Kansas Pacific railroad. In less than eighteen months he killed 4250 bison.

FALL OF MAGNESITE KILLS TULARE MINER

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 2.—While working in an open cut in the Tulare Mining company's mines on the upper Tule river George Petersen was fatally injured by a falling mass of magnesite. He died two hours later. Petersen was warned, but continued to work regardless of the danger. When two fellow workmen rolled out a piece of ore beneath the right side, crushing Petersen on the right side, crushing his body.

Petersen was 31 years old, an unmarried man and a native of Italy. He was one of the valued employees of the mines, where he had been employed for the past five years. The mines will be closed until after the funeral from St. Anne's church.

BODY IN CHANNEL

STOCKTON, Nov. 2.—The unidentified remains of a man about 50 years old, with one leg, were removed from the channel here yesterday. The body had been in the water several days. It was brought to the surface by the churning of one of the steamers plying the stream.

STRAWN NOMINEE OF THE GOLFERS

Glenview Clubman Will Again Be Head of the Association.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The nominating committee of the United States Golf Association has placed in the hands of Robert C. Watson, the secretary, the nominations for officers and executive committee for 1912, to be voted on at the next annual meeting.

Silas H. Strawn, Glenview club, Chicago, is again the nominee for president, but W. A. Alexander, Exmoor Country Club, one of the vice-presidents, has retired and in his stead is named Joseph S. Clark, Philadelphia Cricket Club, who moves up from the executive committee. He in turn will be succeeded by F. L. Woodward of the Denver Country club. The full slate follows:

President—Silas H. Strawn, Glenview club.
Vice-presidents—Joseph F. Clark, Philadelphia Cricket club, and Milton Dargatz, Atlanta Athletic club.
Secretary—R. C. Watson, Garden City Golf club.
Treasurer—W. Fellow Morgan, Baltusrol Golf club.
Executive committee—Albert E. Dick, Onwasett club; James L. Taylor, Ellwank Country club; Harry C. Ayer, Beckburn Country club, and F. L. Woodward, Denver Country club.

ADVENTURISTS MAKE SEVERAL CHANGES

Apply Chiefly to Appointments Among Their Working Forces.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Several important changes and appointments among their working forces have been announced at the fall council of the general conference of members of Seventh Day Adventists. During the meeting a message of greeting and salutation from the native ministers of the denomination in Japan was read to the council.

Among the changes and appointments decided upon were the sending of E. H. Oberg of Lincoln, Neb., to Shanghai to take charge of publishing work in the Chinese Empire; Floyd C. Ashbaugh of California, to the Philippine Islands; Dr. W. C. Dunscombe of the Kobe, Japan, Sanitarium, to the Walford, England, sanitarium.

Elders George W. Pettit and Mark Comer of Portland, Ore., are sent to India, together with Miss Belva Vance of India, who will work in the cities of India.

THORNLESS BLACKBERRY IS BURBANK'S LATEST

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 2.—The thornless blackberry has arrived. Luther Burbank, after ten years of experimenting, has been able to produce a blackberry bush that is robbed of its thorns. Yesterday, while Burbank was showing the thornless blackberry, he was about his garden, he said:

"Now I will show you something about which nothing has been said as yet. It is the thornless blackberry. It has not been distributed yet, and possibly will not be for some time. You see, I have to be careful about stating anything until it is a reality."

Burbank broke off some of the branches from the bush and they were carefully examined by the visitors. There were no thorns visible, the surface of the branches being as smooth as silk. The fruit is said to be of exquisite taste and quality.

Burbank told the boys he had worked ten years on the blackberry bush in the endeavor to remove its thorns.

PRAYED FOR SLAUGHTER OF THE DISOBEDIENT

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 2.—That Rev. Frank W. Sanford prayed for the deck of his yacht to become a slaughter-house, when his people disobey him, was a feature of the testimony at the hearing yesterday when the Holy Ghost and Us leader was arraigned before United States Commissioner Bradley, accused of having caused the death, through scurvy, of Charles Hughey, by refusing to furnish sufficient provisions and failing to take him into port. The minister also is accused of withholding sufficient provisions from the crew of the yacht, the Coronet. The sixth death among the followers of Sanford on his cruise occurred today. John Adamson died of scurvy, and exhaustion.

BOY NEAR DEATH IN HEAVILY CHARGED TREE

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 2.—Forrest Richardson, son of Professor Forrest C. Richardson, was almost electrocuted Wednesday afternoon in a walnut tree which stands in front of his home here. In descending from the tree he caught hold of a limb that was heavily charged with electricity from some wires which ran along the branches which were not insulated.

His screams brought neighbors to the scene, but they were unable to take steps to rescue him. Finally the lad's weight caused his body to drop limply into the creek, an adjoining limb, and from this position he was rescued with some difficulty. Both of his hands are severely burned. It is a wonder that the boy was not electrocuted.

MOUNTAIN TOP FALLS ON CABIN OF MINERS

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 2.—To have the whole top of a mountain come tumbling down on them while they were peacefully enjoying the evening in their mining cabin home was the experience which befell William L. Holbrook and his brother Harold, in the San Bernardino range.

William Holbrook, the elder of the brothers, arrived here yesterday bringing his brother with him for medical aid. The younger Holbrook was buried in the rubble of his cabin, which was crushed after two hours' hard work. He was badly injured, but his worst ailment, physicians declared, seemed to be shock he received. He is bordering on nervous prostration.

A FATHER'S VENGEANCE.
Would have fallen on any one who attacked the son of Peter Bondy, of South Rockwood, Mich., but was powerless before attacks of kidney trouble. "Doctors could not help him," he wrote, "so at last we gave him Electric Bitters and he was cured. It was a wonderful cure. It's the best kidney medicine I ever saw." Backache, tired feeling, nervousness, loss of appetite, warm of kidney trouble that may end in dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease. Beware! Take Electric Bitters and be safe. Every bottle guaranteed. 50c at Osgood Bros.

CASCARETS FOR A SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Gently but Thoroughly Cleanse and Regulate Your Stomach, Liver and Bowels While You Sleep.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach; the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means indigestion; a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you move the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any. Try Cascarets; they cure indigestion because they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended forever. Cascarets tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

ROOSEVELT SENDS $25 TO POOR LITTLE TWINS

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2.—To Mimi and Peppita, twins without visible means of support, has come a check for $25 from Theodore Roosevelt. The check arrived yesterday in care of Judge Williams of the juvenile court. The mother of the girls, poverty stricken, wrote to Roosevelt asking for help. The former President took up the matter with Judge Williams and asked him to investigate the case.

The "court confessor" of Baltimore's make an investigation and she, with the probation officer, found the mother with a number of very small dependents, and an income infinitely smaller, striving to make good her responsibility at any honest work which presented itself.

Miss Cathart reported to Judge Williams that the case was deserving, and he in turn wrote to Roosevelt. A reply came immediately, enclosing a check and wishing the little ones all the good fortune in the world.

PRESIDENT'S SON WINS PRIZE AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 2.—Robert A. Taft, son of President Taft, is a prize winner in the Harvard Law school. In recognition of his first year's work during the last college year he was announced as one of four winners of the Sears prizes, amounting to $375 each in cash.

The son of the President is one of the most modest men in Harvard. He is deeply interested in his law studies. In recognition of his ability he has been elected an editor of the "Harvard Law Review."

Danderine

Stops Falling Hair and Destroys Dandruff

Makes the Hair Grow Long, Heavy and Luxuriant and We Can Quickly Prove It

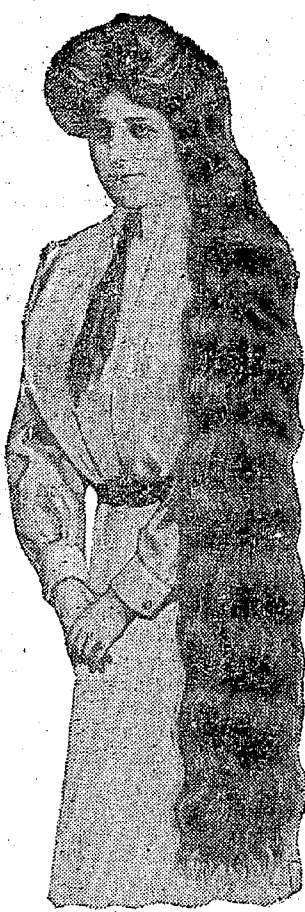

If You Wish to Double the Beauty of Your Hair at Once, Just Get a 25 Cent Bottle and Try This

Surely try a Danderine Hair Cleanse if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair with little trouble and at a cost not worth mentioning—just moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of Dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. It's exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It at once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks' use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which two or three times a week will be sufficient to complete whatever growth you desire.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

ARBITRATION PRETENSE SCORED BY ROOSEVELT

Real Friends of Peace Should Profit by the Events in Turkey and China, He Writes

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Theodore Roosevelt has an article on "Arbitration Pretense and Reality" in the current number of "The Outlook." It says in part:

"Surely the real friends of peace in this country ought to be able to profit by the events that have happened in China and in the Mediterranean during these very full months, since the arbitration treaty was considered in the senate.

"During these months we have seen a widespread revolt in China with utter disorganization of the empire, and we have seen war unexpectedly break out between Italy and Turkey.

"In China there has doubtless been much excuse for the revolt, because of tyranny and misgovernment and the nation, and we should at the same time make provisions which will tend to bring about a pacific solution of all disputes not covered by the treaty.

"To this end a provision should be inserted in such treaty that if either party to it should fail to observe its vital interests, its independence or its honor, then (always provided that neither party takes a position that necessitates immediate action by the other) on the request of either party, all questions of fact and all questions of law involved in the dispute shall be referred to arbitrators who shall have no power to decide the dispute, but shall be authorized to pass on the controversy as to question of fact and law, and to recommend such adjustment of the dispute as they may deem just and honorable to both the contracting nations."

TRIPOLI FOR EUROPE.

"As for the war between Italy and Turkey, I am not now concerned with its ethical justification. Personally, I believe that it is in the interest of humanity that Italy should fall under European control, just as it is in the interest of humanity that Morocco shall so fall; just as it has been of immeasurable benefit to mankind, and especially to Algerian and Egyptian mankind, that Algeria and Egypt should fall under the control of France and of England.

"But this is not the point. The point is that this war proves the utter futility of paper treaties when they are backed by force, the utter folly of those who believe that these paper treaties accomplish any useful purpose in the present stage of the world's development when there is no force behind them, and, finally, the folly of the policy which there is no real intention of putting into effect.

"Turkey's treaties with various European powers explicitly guaranteed her integrity and on the more technical legalities of the case no court of arbitration in the world could possibly declare in any other way than against Italy and for Turkey if the case at issue between them were brought to arbitration."

FOOLISH AND WICKED.

"It would be not merely foolish, but wicked, for us as a nation to agree to arbitrate any dispute that affects our vital interest or our independence or our honor, because such an agreement would amount on our part to a covenant to abandon our duty, to an agreement to surrender the rights of the American people about unknown matters at unknown times in the future.

"Such an agreement would be wicked if it kept, and yet to break it—as it undoubtedly would be broken if the occasion arose—would be only less shameful than keeping it. A self-executing arbitration treaty of such a kind cannot be devised, simply because no such treaty that can be devised will execute itself, or will be ought to be executed by the nation in time of stress.

SUBMIT DISPUTES.

"If as a people we wish to make any advance, we should agree definitely to submit to arbitration all disputes that do not involve the vital interests, the independence or honor of the nation, and we should at the same time make provisions which will tend to bring about a pacific solution of all disputes not covered by the treaty.

"To this end a provision should be inserted in such treaty that if either party to it should fail to observe its vital interests, its independence or its honor, then (always provided that neither party takes a position that necessitates immediate action by the other) on the request of either party, all questions of fact and all questions of law involved in the dispute shall be referred to arbitrators who shall have no power to decide the dispute, but shall be authorized to pass on the controversy as to question of fact and law, and to recommend such adjustment of the dispute as they may deem just and honorable to both the contracting nations."

TO SPEAK ON PRESENT CRISIS IN CHINA

The economic and political issues now confronting the oriental people will be explained in the address to be given by F. O. Leister, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Canton, China, next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in the Association building, Jones street and Telegraph avenue. His theme will be, "The present crisis in China."

The speaker is touring California on a tour from the Association in China. The greater part of his time will be held in addressing conferences, which will be held in northern and southern California.

Leister is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and has charge of the Association in the Orient for the past five years.

SECURES $35,000 BY REFERENDUM LAW FRAUD, IS THE CHARGE.

Woman Is Accused of Cheating Her Out of Valuable Inheritance.

Charging that a designing woman has defrauded him out of an inheritance valued at about $35,000, Carl H. Forslund instituted suit this forenoon in the Superior Court to recover the estate which he alleges Olga C. Boman has robbed him of. The property, he alleges, represents the joint estate of Charles and Helen B. Thorsquist, his uncle and aunt, who had no heirs but himself.

The Thorsquists were married in 1860, according to Forslund's complaint, and at the time of their death owned property at the corner of Nineteenth avenue and East Twenty-fourth street, together with certain stocks and bonds and other personal property of considerable value. In course of time Mrs. Thorsquist became mentally incompetent and Olga C. Boman, having gained the confidence and control of the former's husband, it is alleged, had herself appointed legal guardian of Mrs. Thorsquist. In this capacity, the complaint recites, the Boman woman by artifice and device made Thorsquist believe that it would be to his best interest to turn his property over to her, which he did by deed of gift May 17, 1906, despite the fact that his wife did not join with him in the transfer and no valuable consideration was given by Miss Boman.

Thorsquist died April 15, 1911, leaving, according to Forslund, his incompetent wife as his only heir. She died four months afterward, without issue or relatives other than Forslund, hence his claim against her and his charges that Miss Boman is in possession of the property to which he is entitled. He asks the court to nullify the deeds of gift and compel Miss Boman to restore to him all other property of the estate.

DR. GASKILL RETURNS FROM A HUNTING TRIP

Dr. Percy Gaskill, with a party of friends, returned recently from a hunting trip in the Feather River canyon, on the Western Pacific line, where he captured the largest deer of the season.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The legal fight to put an end to the initiative and referendum method of legislation in America will come to climax probably today when the Supreme Court of the United States is scheduled to take up consideration of the constitutionality of the method.

Prominent attorneys from one coast to the other are here to address the court on the subject. The method comes into issue as a result of the attempt of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company to have declared void a proposed tax imposed by the initiative and referendum system of legislation in Oregon. As is considered by the court will listen to arguments that an amendment to the charter of Portland, Ore., authorizing the construction of a $2,000,000 bridge in that city, is void because adopted by the initiative and referendum method.

E. S. Pillsbury, a San Francisco attorney, is here to argue for the Pacific States company that initiative and referendum legislation is a violation of the federal constitution. R. Dunnway of Portland will attack the system on behalf of the Portland taxpayers opposed to the bridge project.

A number of States which have adopted that system have joined hands with Oregon to defend it. Among these are Missouri, California, Arkansas, Colorado, South Dakota and Nebraska. The city of Portland has also sent attorneys here to be heard in the matter. Among those who will address the court in favor of the method will be George Fred Williams of Boston, J. H. Ralston of Washington, D. C., Attorney General A. M. Carrington of Oregon and F. S. Grant and W. C. Benbow of Portland.

PLANNING FOR MASKED BALL AT WALNUT CREEK

WALNUT CREEK, Nov. 2.—Great preparations are in progress for the big masquerade ball to be given Thanksgiving eve, November 29, under the auspices of the Walnut Creek Business Men's Association and the volunteer fire department of this place.

COLLISION ENDS HIS AUTOTRIP FROM OKLAHOMA

Wellington Bourke Runs Into a Motorcyclist On San Pablo Avenue.

As the finale of a long automobile trip from Oklahoma City, otherwise uneventful, Wellington Bourke collided with a motorcyclist driven by A. Norling, a young man employed by the Hutchinson construction company, at San Pablo and Fifty-third street about noon today, hurling Norling to the street and causing a concussion of the brain. Norling was removed to the Receiving hospital, where he is lying unconscious and in a critical condition. Bourke immediately surrendered himself to the police, and was released on his own recognizance.

According to a witness, and to the story told by Bourke, the accident was practically unavoidable, and was probably caused by Norling's motorcycle brakes failing to work. Bourke was driving the small runabout in which he has spent 25 days on the road between here and Oklahoma City, down San Pablo avenue, and was in the act of turning off San Pablo toward the east into a side street when the accident occurred.

AT HIGH SPEED.

Norling was riding his machine north on the east side of San Pablo and failed to see that Bourke was turning into the side street in time to swerve from the straight line, as he was going at high rate of speed. The brakes apparently refused to work, and the motorcycle crashed into the automobile on the right side, smashing the running board, and partially wrecking the machine. Norling was hurled to the street, being shot over the handle bars of his cycle, and landed on his head.

Bourke informed Captain J. F. Lynch that he did not see Norling until he came crashing into the automobile, his first realization of the danger being when the motorcycle was about five feet away. Bourke picked up Norling, and had a physician summoned. The young man was then taken to the hospital. He is about 25 years of age, and resides at Forty-sixth street and Adeline.

LATEST NEWS FROM OUTSIDE TOWNS

OAKLAND TO HAVE ANOTHER WATER CO

Martinez and San Jose Men Signify Intent to Enter Local Field.

MARTINEZ, Nov. 2.—Notice of water rights on Dutch Slough, which is between the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers, was filed here yesterday when Charles E. Bacon of Martinez, and W. L. and Emerson of San Jose announced that they intended to furnish water to a number of towns between the points to San Francisco. The amount filed on was 100,000 inches. Just what the purpose of the filing and the detailed plans of the men are they refused to discuss.

According to the documents filed with County Clerk Wells, the intention of Bacon and Emerson is to supply water to Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley, Walnut Creek, Concord, Altamont, Byron, Brentwood, Oakley, Livermore, Hayward and San Leandro. J. P. O'Brien of San Francisco is attorney for the concern.

RAPID TRANSIT IN DAMAGE SUIT

Case Filed in the Morning Was Settled Early in the Afternoon.

MARTINEZ, Nov. 2.—The damage suit for $1000 filed against the Dupont Powder Company for causing the death of Joseph Alfonso, a laborer, last July, was settled here yesterday by a compromise between the attorneys for the company and those representing Public Administrator C. E. Dalrymple, who looked after the interests of the heirs of the dead man. The controversy was settled in record-breaking time, the suit being filed in the morning and settlement being made in the afternoon.

RAISE PHEASANTS AND GET RICHES

You Buy Pair of Birds From State and Nature Does the Rest.

HAYWARD, Nov. 2.—A movement is being started in this section by the Fish and Game commissioners to enlarge the scope of the poultry business by making it include the raising of pheasants, which is becoming a profitable industry. The work of the commissioners is being carried on through the agency of the State game farm near here.

Persons wishing to enter the new field can for a trifling sum buy a pair of pheasants from the game preserve with which to form the nucleus of a pheasant farm. Part of the cost of the birds to the State institution the $5 will be refunded by Manager A. R. Argebrite.

To show the proportions of the growing industry, the woman recently received from the Los Angeles hotel for 1000 choice pheasants.

'VICTIM' OF CAR TURNS UP ALIVE

C. W. Haines of Oakland Was the Man Killed in Richmond.

RICHMOND, Nov. 2.—The C. W. Haines, who was killed by a San Pablo car Monday night and who was identified as a resident of Oakland, living at Eleventh and Bissell avenues, has turned out to be another man by the same name and of the same description, living in Oakland.

The first identification was made on the discovery of the man's name by E. B. Smallwood, who declared the man fitted the description of the Richmond report who had been engaged by Mrs. Smallwood to do some work about the Smallwood establishment.

The appearance of the Richmond man on the scene alive and well threw the local authorities into consternation as to the first identification, but Deputy Coroner Smallwood was yesterday successful in getting in touch with the relatives of the dead man, including a brother, E. A. Haines, living at 3737 Howe street, Oakland, when the mystery was solved, and the body taken to that city for burial, where the funeral was held today.

BANDITS FIRE AT RANCHER IN DARK

Shots Returned Without Effect and Posse Fails in Pursuit.

NILES, Nov. 2.—More than a dozen shots were fired last night in a running fight between A. Machado, a Warm Springs rancher, and three masked highwaymen, who attempted to hold-up their victim as he crossed the Niles bridge in a wagon.

Machado was about to cross the bridge over Niles canyon when he was ordered to throw up his hands by one of three men who suddenly appeared from the underbrush near the road. Instead of obeying, he whipped up his team and commenced returning the fire which the bandits had opened up with revolvers. Owing to the darkness Machado escaped injury, none of the shots taking effect.

Constable Roderick of this place was aroused by the sound of the fusillade in the darkness and met Machado as he arrived in town. A posse was called together with little delay and set in pursuit of the highwaymen. Every foot of the surrounding country was scoured by the posse, but without result, no trace of the bandits being found.

This Hair Remover Works Like Magic

(Toilet Talks.)

A paste made with water and plain powdered delatone and applied to a hairy surface will remove every trace of hair or fuzz. The paste should be left on the skin two or three minutes, then removed and the surface washed. This will leave the skin hairless, firm and white. If the growth is very thick or stubborn, it may require a second application.

Druggists charge one dollar for an original one-ounce package of delatone, but to those afflicted with superfluous growths this will prove far cheaper than the electric needle, while the absence of the attending pain, and time-consuming trips to the beauty parlor will be appreciated.

It is not alone the convenience, or the freshness, or the crispness, or the unusual food-value, or the digestibility, or the cleanliness, or the price, that has made Uneeda Biscuit the National Soda Cracker.

It is the remarkable combination of all of these things.

If everyone, everywhere, knew how good they are, everyone, everywhere, would eat them—every day.

Sold by grocers in every city and town—Bought by people of all classes.

Never sold in bulk—always 5 cents in the moisture-proof package which keeps them oven-fresh.

---SOCIETY---

MISS MYRTLE SMITH became the bride of Paul Swedburg last night at the Town and Gown club-house in Berkeley before 100 guests. Rev. H. H. Powell reading the marriage services. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Smith of Dana street, and well known in the college town.

Great branches of woodwardia fern and a profusion of pink blossoms and smilax decorated the hall.

Under a bower of pink and white blossoms artistically combined with white lulle the ceremony took place.

The bride's gown was of white satin with a panel of tulle and lace. With this was worn the little Juliet cap of orange blossoms, which confined the tulle veil. A shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies-of-the-valley completed a beautiful costume.

Miss Hazel Smith, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a white spangled and beaded chiffon over apricot colored satin and carried lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Laura Judd, bridesmaid, wore pink satin veiled in white embroidered chiffon.

Mrs. Smith wore a handsome gown of black crepe de meteor with trimmings of jet.

G. A. Daniels was best man.

After a wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Swedburg left for Southern California on their wedding trip and upon their return will make their home in North Berkeley, to the delight of their many friends.

MISS VIRGINIA BEAN, SUFFRAGIST, IS DEAD

SAN JOSE, Nov. 2.—Miss Mary Virginia Bean of Saratoga, for many years well known for her efforts in behalf of woman's suffrage and a daughter of the founder of the Bank of San Jose, died yesterday. For many years Miss Bean has made it a practice to pay her large taxes under protest because she had no vote and at each election she visited the Saratoga polling place and demanded that she be allowed to cast her ballot. Miss Bean has been ill for the last six weeks and although she lived to see woman's suffrage voted into the constitution of the state, she was too ill to register as a voter. She was widely known throughout this part of the state, her parents having been among the earliest pioneers of Santa Clara county and California. She is said to have left a large estate.

Beauty and Morality

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright: 1911: By Lillian Russell.)

LEADING artist created dissension and discussion at a woman's club meeting where he had been asked to talk by declaring that women in general lack a keen sense of harmony and rarely attain the highest degree of esthetic development. Among other things he spoke of the care a woman will expend in making her dinner appointments, her decorations and her gown harmonize, and how utterly at variance with all this is her conversation.

He also spoke of the care with which a pretty woman will sink into a rose brocade chair under a rose light when wearing a mauve gown, and the carelessness with regard to the fitness and harmony of things which distinguishes her in the kitchen, in the nursery or in the garden.

Of course, a woman is "at home" in her drawing room and not "at home" in her kitchen, but any woman who has the right idea of beauty or an innate artistic instinct will be as sensitive to a false note in her kitchen as she is in her drawing room. She will not be satisfied if she clashes with the scheme of things or is out of keeping with her surroundings anywhere.

This instinct in some women has made them the most fascinating of their kind. The incongruity of a castoff shirt waist suit, or, heaven's forbend, a kimono in a delft kitchen, will irritate some women as much as a bathing suit in a drawing room; they not only always strive to live a series of pictures as beautiful as circumstances allow, but they also bring their speech and thought into harmony with surroundings.

The artist at the club went outside of the realm of art a bit to point out that morality itself is nothing more than a recognition of the beautiful. This is what I am trying to teach, and when all women have learned it there will be no talk of the new woman or the old woman, or the young woman; it will just be the beautiful woman of all ages, of all places, of all circumstances. Remember, the sooner you realize that beauty is not a purely physical attribute the sooner you will become beautiful.

is an important remedy. Scalp massage is the secret of keeping the hair healthy. It does not require much time or patience and can be done by an amateur. The scalp is loosely attached to the underlying bones, or the skull, and when it becomes adherent to the bones and will not move easily the hair will fall. By keeping the scalp flexible it promotes a flow of blood to the roots of the hair and will properly nourish it and keep the hair from growing dry and brittle. If you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope I shall be glad to send you an excellent hair tonic, in which I have perfect faith, and instructions for scalp massage. I will also send you the formula for a shampoo.

MILLY—If your arms are thin they can be improved by massaging and exercise. To massage the arms grasp one arm with the hand of the opposite side and begin at the shoulder or the wrist, working up and down the arm with a wringing, twisting motion. Massaging them with cocoa butter also is good. Deep breathing is good for filling out the hollows in the neck. I am sending you instructions for deep breathing and a good cold cream for the face and a hair curling fluid.

HAZEL—Use a little will power and break yourself of that awful habit of biting the nails. If you manicure your nails properly and get them in such shape that you will be proud of them instead of hiding them and being ashamed of letting any one see them on account of their appearance I am sure you will not want to bite them. Manicure them once or twice a week and each morning gently push the cuticle back with the blunt end of the orangewood stick, being careful not to injure the nail, then polish them with a buffer. In a few weeks you will see a vast difference and will be proud of them. If you care for instructions for manicuring send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and I shall gladly send them to you.

L. B. M.—Witch hazel is one of the best astringents and I consider it one of the necessities of my dressing table. Cloths wet in hot witch hazel and placed over the nose will reduce the pores materially, but be careful to cool the face before going out into the open air. If you will send me an addressed, stamped envelope I shall send you the recipe for an astringent lotion which will reduce coarse pores and remedy an oily skin.

FLORENCE—Have you ever tried to move your scalp with your fingers? Is it flexible and does it move easily? If it does not it should, and as a result the hair loses its brilliancy and begins to fall. In this case scalp massage Flies 45 Miles to Phoenix at the Rate of Mile a Minute.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 2.—Aviator Rodgers arrived in Phoenix at 10:30 o'clock this morning, having made the trip from Maricopa by the way of Tempe, a total distance of thirty-three miles, in 45 minutes.

Watched by a large crowd, Rodgers passed over the city looking for a good landing, which he finally found at the fair grounds. He expected to leave early this afternoon for Yuma, more than 200 miles from here, where he hoped to arrive before night.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 2.—Aviator Rodgers, who left Maricopa at 9:45 this morning, arrived here at 10:30, making the distance of 45 miles at the rate of a mile a minute.

TUCSON, Nov. 2.—Aviator Fowler expects to resume his transcontinental flight from this city at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. He will stop at Benson, Lordsburg, Deming and El Paso.

MARICOPA, Ariz., Nov. 2.—With less than 500 miles, or a little more than two days' flying under favorable circumstances between him and his goal, C. F. Rodgers, pioneer transcontinental aviator, prepared today to enter upon the last lap of his long flight which has brought him over-head from New York and which, barring mishap, will land him ultimately at Pasadena, Cal.

Rodgers spent the night at Maricopa, having been forced by darkness to give over the rest of a proposed side flight to Phoenix until today.

EARLY START.
He planned to start early for Phoenix, where he was scheduled to give an exhibition flight before resuming his flight west.

Rodgers left Phoenix shortly after noon, assaying the task of crossing the bare Salt River mountains to the southward to avoid making a 20-mile detour along the railroad tracks back to Maricopa. He passed over the mountains at a height of not less than 3000 feet.

EX-CONVICT IS ORDERED JAILED

Benjamin Soule Breaks Parole and Must Go Back to Prison.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Benjamin Soule, who, in 1909, was sent to San Quentin for four years for mailing a threatening letter to Rudolph Spreckels, and who was later paroled, was returned to the penitentiary today. After his release Soule was under the direction of the parole board and was arrested several days ago on complaint of John D. Gish of the Humboldt Bank building, for obtaining money under false pretenses. Today in Judge Sullivan's court, Soule was adjudged guilty of breaking his parole, and ordered returned to prison.

MOTHERS WHO NURSE CHILDREN RAPIDLY DECREASE IN NUMBERS

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 2.—The fact that mothers who nurse their children are rapidly decreasing in number and the bottle-fed baby is becoming the rule, is believed by the State Board of Health to be partially responsible for infant mortality, particularly among babies up to five and six months of age.

Figures prepared by the State Board of Health indicate that 59 per cent of the 1029 babies that died of intestinal diseases during 1910 were between the ages of a few days and five months. The percentage from one to five months of age was 49.

These figures are held to indicate that the babies are, for a large part, victims of cows' milk or artificial milk formulas.

COUNTY CLERK J. P. COOK REGISTERS HIS WIFE AS VOTER
MRS. J. CAL EWING AND MRS. F. W. LEAVITT ON BIG BOOK

Women Shy at the Question, 'Any Visible Marks or Scars?'

Piloted by former State Senator Frank W. Leavitt, the wives of the former legislator, County Clerk John P. Cook and J. Cal Ewing, Pacific Coast League magnate and owner of the Oakland baseball club, stormed the registration room in the Hall of Records yesterday afternoon and had their names enrolled upon the great register of voters.

Senator Leavitt took the women to the office of the County Clerk in his automobile and when he presented them for registration that genial and popular official was flabbergasted. The whole thing was a complete surprise to the County Clerk, but when he recovered from the first shock of seeing his wife and two of her most intimate friends in the role of modern and near-militant suffragettes he threw up both hands in resignation to the new order of things and breezed through the formalities of registration.

TRIES TO ESCAPE.
Mrs. Leavitt was the first to register. She gave her name as M. Bonnie Steele Leavitt and said she thought she was about 40 years old. Her residence was put down as 923 Linden street, and when County Clerk Cook gravely asked her if she possessed any visible marks or scars she gave her husband a frightened look, the color left her face and she turned about to escape from the room. Leavitt caught her by the arm and said, "You've got to face the music." The other suffragists shrieked with laughter, but the County Clerk never batted an eye.

"Hurry up, Mrs. Leavitt," said he, feigning impatience, but ready to burst into convulsions of laughter, "my time is very precious at this hour of the day."

"You horrid man," exclaimed Mrs. Leavitt. "I refuse to answer the question."

"Very well," retorted the County Clerk. Then turning to Chief Deputy Clerk Johnstone, who was watching the registration with a broad grin, Cook said:

"Mr. Chief Deputy, get the inspection book."

Mrs. Leavitt made another attempt to bolt from the room and the only way she could be prevailed upon to finish the registration was for the County Clerk to ask nothing more about marks or scars. Mrs. Leavitt registered as a Republican.

"PROBABLY 41," she answered in reply to questions, "probably 41 and reside at 509 Vernon street."

"Any visible marks?"

"Not that I know of," and so on down the line. Mrs. Ewing said she was a Republican.

"Your turn next," said the County Clerk to Mrs. Cook.

"Well, don't be so severe about it, Jack," replied Mrs. Cook.

"You will refrain from such familiarity here," retorted Cook, in a freezing voice. "Your name, madam?"

"Sadie Briggs Cook," was an indignant lurch of the head.

"Age?"

"I claim to be only 35, but you say I'm 36."

"We'll make it 36 to be on the safe side," chuckled the County Clerk.

"You're the meanest thing I ever saw," declared Mrs. Cook and every body laughed.

"No visible marks or scars," the County Clerk muttered, and then he went down the line of questions to the end without any further parley.

WHO RUNS THE FAMILY?
Mrs. Cook wanted to register as a Democrat, but when her husband informed her that she would have to vote the Democratic ticket at the next primaries she concluded to list herself as a Republican.

"Hold up your hand and be sworn," said the County Clerk.

"I do solemnly swear that you will cherish, honor and obey—"

"I'll do nothing of the kind," interrupted Mrs. Cook. "I made that vow years ago and don't intend to repeat it now. I'm a suffragette and refuse to obey any man."

"Very well," said the County Clerk. "I just wanted to know my status in the Cook family from this time henceforth." Then he administered the proper oath to his wife and the ordeal was over.

Another woman who registered at the same time was Angeline M. Gardner of 1314 Eighth street, who gave her age as 60 years and declared herself a Republican.

JEALOUSY MAY BE KEY TO MURDER

Veil of Mystery Shrouds Dead Body of Bissonette and Baffles Police.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Possibility that jealousy might have been a motive in the death of Arthur Bissonette, a policeman, today proved a new factor in the investigation that is being conducted by the coroner and the police department. The belief that he was engaged to Mrs. Louise Vermilya, with whom he boarded, was shattered by the filing of the patrolman's will, showing Miss Rivard, daughter of a farmer at Marshall, Minn., as his fiancée and the chief beneficiary under the document.

Although Mrs. Vermilya's name appeared in the will as a witness she denied that she knew anything of it and said Miss Rivard had appeared in Bissonette's life years before and had been forgotten by the policeman.

Whether or not action will be taken against Mrs. Vermilya and a further investigation conducted into eight other deaths that have occurred in her circle of immediate associates will not be determined until tomorrow.

At that time toxicologists who are examining Bissonette's viscera will make their report to the coroner.

Mrs. Vermilya is under close guard by two policemen, but both the police and coroner admit they have no evidence on which to arrest her.

TELLS OF DEATH COMPACT.
Information about Mrs. Vermilya was volunteered by the police by Mrs. B. M. Bixler, mother of Hazel West, a divorced wife of Frank Brinkamp, son of Mrs. Vermilya, who died at her home about a year ago. Mrs. West now is in New York.

Mrs. Bixler said that her daughter had told her that before she obtained a divorce from Brinkamp they had made an agreement that should either die suddenly the survivor should investigate the other's death.

"Hazel said that she and Frank both feared that something would happen to them," said Mrs. Bixler, "but when Frank died they had been divorced and she did not bother."

A detective left here for Peoria to question Thomas Brington, a former friend of Richard T. Smith, who told Chief of Police Rhoades of Peoria that he had information that might prove valuable.

A story that Mrs. Vermilya was morbidly fascinated by dead bodies was told by E. M. Blocks, undertaker at Barrington, Ill.

CLARK FIGURES OUT WAY TO WHITE HOUSE

FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 2.—"Nine-tenths of the people of this country favor the annexation of Canada," declared Champ Clark, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, here today, "and I don't care who hears me say it."

Beginning with a speech here this morning, Speaker Clark was scheduled to make addresses in 21 towns in the Third Nebraska district in the interest of Daniel V. Stevens, Democratic candidate for Congress, to succeed the late Representative James P. Latta.

"I am willing," he said, "to make this proposition: You let me run for President on a platform calling for annexation of Canada, insofar as this country can accomplish that end, and let President Taft run against me opposing annexation. Why, I would carry every state in the nation."

Compressed Air Tested to Keep Water Out of Ships

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—An invention which by means of compressed air is supposed to keep water from entering ships through holes is being tested on board the battleship North Carolina. Commander C. C. Marsh, commander of the North Carolina, believes that the use of the apparatus will prevent vessels from going to the bottom following collisions or when hit by torpedoes or shells, and declares it will revolutionize marine warfare. The invention is merely an adaptation to the compartments of ships of science of air pressure as already applied to tunnel building. It was developed by one of the engineers of the subway in this city.

Head of Great Western Power Company Resigns

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Announcement was made today of the resignation of Edwin Hawley as president of the Great Western Power company of California, the California Electric Generating company and the Western Power company, a holding company for the Great Western.

Derelict Schooner Sighted Ten Days After Tempest

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Captain Paulson of the steamer Curacao, which arrived today from Mexican ports, reported sighting a derelict schooner off the Gulf of California, October 25, about ten days after the tempest which made havoc along the west coast. The vessel, he said, was drifting. Its upper works being badly wrecked. No signs of life could be detected through the binoculars, nor could the captain make out the schooner's name. Later reports received at San Jose del Cabo were to the effect that the hull had come in shore and pounded to pieces on the rocks. The Merchants' Exchange is unable to identify the wreck from its shipping reports.

SEEKS INFORMATION OF OTTO HUFNER
The Chamber of Commerce, through the California Development Board, and Postmaster Arthur C. Fisk of San Francisco, has been asked for information as to the whereabouts of one Otto Hufner, a German, formerly owner of a fruit farm, known as the "Marguerite," somewhere near San Francisco. The present owner of the place is supposed to be a man by the name of Erdiger. The information is asked for by Ida Hufner, Spitalgasse, Coburg, Germany.

GOLD LACE DAY FOR FLEET IN SOUTH

Thousands Pay Visit to Fighting Ships in San Pedro Harbor.

Jackies Enjoy Freedom of Los Angeles. While Officers Banquet.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—Social functions for the officers and shore leave and entertainment for hundreds of Jackies of the Pacific fleet was the program today in connection with the mobilization of the fleet at San Pedro harbor.

It was gold lace day for Admirals Thomas and Southerland, their officers, and society folk of the city and automobiles and shore food for the sailors. The Jackies, unincumbered by the necessity for the stiff conventional observances that goes with commissioned rank, enjoyed the freedom of the city, the parks and the savor of restaurant foods.

At the same time plainer citizens, not charged with social duties in connection with dining and banqueting of fleet officers, went down to the shore in thousands to view the ships in their sombre battle-gray. Visitors were permitted aboard the vessels for an hour this morning and an hour this afternoon. Thousands took advantage of the privilege with but one regret. Cameras were not allowed aboard any of the warships without special permission from Admiral Thomas.

EVEN TOYS BARRED.
A toy picture box was regarded with as much offense by the naval authorities as a business-like news paper camera in the hands of a busy Japanese.

The first function today was a luncheon given by the Chamber of Commerce at noon to sixty officers of the fleet. Afterward sixty more officers joined the luncheon party and the entire number were guests at a society people. The party given later by the fleet maintains its review formation in the harbor—a great rectangle of naval fighting machines, two and a half miles long and a mile wide.

Last night the officers of the fleet were guests at a ball given in Long Beach, while the searchlights of the warships cut eccentric patterns on the night sky in a signal practice that lasted an hour and a half. Tonight the same spectacle will be afforded landmen. A barbecue tomorrow and more shore leave will wind up the recreation feature of the fleet's stay for the sailors.

Lambardi Singer Is Under $10,000 Bond

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Miss Rose O'Day of the Lambardi opera company, dressed in a becoming gown and expressing a feeling of disquiet at the feeling of disquiet that she had in appearing in a private courtroom, went before Police Judge Shortall on a charge of perjury. Miss O'Day appeared as the result of a warrant issued for her arrest yesterday and sworn to by E. S. Bonnell, alleged affinity of Mrs. George Leek. Bonds were fixed at $10,000, which were promptly furnished, and the singer immediately released. The hearing has been set for November 14.

The accusation against Miss O'Day is that she swore falsely when she testified in an affidavit, in the Dr. Leek divorce proceedings, that she saw Bonnell and Mrs. Leek leaving a house on Fifth street.

Miss O'Day hurried up from Bakersfield to surrender herself on learning of the proceedings, and the long continuance was granted so that she could keep her engagements in the South. She returned immediately to Bakersfield, where the company plays again tonight.

Garland Murder Case Is in Hands of Jury

OPELOUSAS, La., Nov. 2.—The case of J. Lee Runge McLee, charged with the murder of Allan Thurman Garland, the Tulane university student, was given to the jury at 11:40 a. m., following a brief charge by Judge Pavy.

At 3:14 p. m. the jury reported that there was no possibility of agreeing on a verdict. They were sent back for further deliberation.

Convertible Coats

Can be worn as a walking or tourist coat. Can be transferred at once into a storm coat, with auto and high collars; from a plain-tailored model. Others can be reversed on either side, and worn as an afternoon street coat or an evening coat for theater or parties. Many new ideas here. Have one placed to your account.

ENVOY LAUGHS AT WAR TALK

Saburo Shimada, Peace Envoy from Japan, Says Rumors Are "Funny."

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—"There is no basis for talk of war between America and Japan," declared Saburo Shimada, member of the Japanese parliament from Yokohama, in an interview at the Hotel Shattuck today. Shimada has been in California for six weeks. He was the guest of Dr. David Starr Jordan at Stanford yesterday, and will leave for Seattle tomorrow.

He will give a series of lectures on the subject of the Japanese peace society to the American Peace society, which meets in Washington, December 1. The Japanese visitor declares that America fears Japan and that Japan fears America, but that there is no danger of war.

"This agitation about impending war between the United States and Japan is really funny," he said.

"The people of Yokohama recognize San Francisco as the Golden Gate to America, and it is the best wishes of the Japanese people to see the best of the United States. There is no basis for talk of war, and when I go back to Yokohama, I shall bring with me peace."

"Up to the present time Japan has wasted much money in war and in preparing for war, and she needs peace. She now needs time to restore the vigor of the Japanese race, and to increase the happiness and welfare of the people, as well as to encourage education and industry."

If Japan needs peace, so also does the whole world, he said. "I desire that I may have something to do with bringing about peace, not only in my own country, but in the world. I believe that my hope is also the hope of America."

CLUB PLANS NIGHT OF INSTRUCTION

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—The Hillside Club's calendar for November will include a number of interesting events. On Monday evening, November 6, an address will be made before the members and guests by John Clifton Howell, his subject being "The Author's relation to the Publisher." During the evening Mrs. Albert Schneider, winner of last year's prize for a story for the most beautiful garden in Berkeley, will present a list of various flowers and shrubs which she recommends to the members, and Charles S. Quick, whose garden received favorable mention in the contest last year, will offer a list of 25 trees which she considers best adapted to Berkeley soils, after which an informal reception will be tendered the members recently admitted to the club, among who are: Admiral and Mrs. W. H. Whitling, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Elder, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Blockinger, Miss Edna Osborne, Miss Dora A. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Huber, Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jones, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Jones, Miss Margaret Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. Tolbert Ware, and Captain W. F. Higgins. A number of names now appear upon the Club's waiting list.

JUDGE ROBINSON IS VISITING IN ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA, Nov. 2.—Judge William Robinson of Hawaii, a former Alamedan, arrived today for a visit with his mother, Mrs. George T. Morris and Henry Morris, and their families. Judge Robinson has played a prominent part in the reconstruction of Hawaii since the annexation of the islands by the United States. He was formerly a member of the Alameda county bar and will be remembered by old-time yachtmen as an enthusiastic boat lover and skillful sailing master.

EAMES DE GOGORZA CONCERT CERTAIN

Artists to Sing at Ye Liberty Playhouse On Next Tuesday.

The Emma Eames-Emilio de Gogorza concert which was so suddenly postponed last Friday, will positively be given at Ye Liberty Playhouse next Tuesday afternoon. De Gogorza's indisposition was the cause of last week's disappointment, and the famous baritone sang more beautifully than ever to an audience that crowded every space of the spacious Scottish Rite Auditorium in San Francisco last Sunday afternoon.

During the many years that Managers Greenbaum & Bishop have been supplying the eastern bay cities with the greatest of attractions there have been but few disappointments, and on this occasion the illness of the singer was of so painful a nature that it was simply impossible for him to go ahead with his work.

A notable program will be given, which will include at least six duets by the soprano and baritone, selections by both Eames and De Gogorza, and piano selections by the young genius, Henri Gilles, who is accompanying the stars as soloist and accompanist. Tickets are still to be had at the box office of Ye Liberty Playhouse.

ELECTRIC CAR CLEANING BOTHERS NEIGHBORHOOD

ALAMEDA, Nov. 2.—Following the application of Mrs. H. J. Platt of 3249 Euclid avenue, to the Southern Pacific Company to have the cars of the local line cleaned at some other place than in front of her home, the railroad people have today posted notices to their employees to stand the cars near Highway street. This will take them from in front of the premises occupied by Mrs. Platt and others, who have made complaint that the cleaners disturb them at night with the noise made in slamming the seats.

EARLY DAY CALIFORNIA WOMAN PASSES AWAY

ALAMEDA, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Charlotte Horber died last night at her home, 2032 San Jose avenue. She was a native of Germany, but came to America many years ago and lived in California for 65 years. She came to Alameda to live seven years ago.

Mrs. Horber was the mother of Mrs. Carrie Baker and of the late Rudolph Horber. She was 79 years of age.

GOSSIP OF STUDENTS AND RESIDENTS IN THE UNIVERSITY TOWN

U. OF C. ALUMNI TO BE ORGANIZED

President Wheeler Starts On a State Tour for That Purpose.

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 2.—Beginning a state wide campaign to arouse the alumni of the University of California to greater loyalty for their institution, President Benjamin H. Wheeler, and James K. Moffitt, president of the Alumni Association, left today on a tour of the southern part of the State where they will organize new alumni societies.

Receptions have been planned for Dr. Wheeler and the alumni president at the various cities where they will meet the university graduates.

San Luis Obispo will be the first stopping place, where Dr. Wheeler will make a brief address late today. Santa Barbara is on tomorrow's schedule, and Ventura and Oxnard Saturday. With a meeting at San Diego for Sunday night, Los Angeles will be visited November 8, and the return to Berkeley will be made the following day. A tour of the northern part of the State will be taken later.

FORMER MAYOR BACK FROM EUROPEAN TOUR

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—Former Mayor and Mrs. Beverly L. Hodghead have returned from a European tour of several months. In Paris they met Mr. and Mrs. Earl Webb of this city, with whom they visited the remainder of the continent. They heard the speaker of the House of Commons, and also the speaker of the British House of Commons, and also the speaker of the French Chamberlain in opposition to him.

Hodghead will resume the practice of law in San Francisco.

UNITARIAN CLUB HEARS PASSION PLAY LECTURE

ALAMEDA, Nov. 2.—Dr. F. S. Brush, lecturing in lieu of Rabbi Martin Meyer, gave his illustrated address on the "Passion Play" before the Unitarian Club last night. Rabbi Meyer was unable to keep his engagement to lecture, and Dr. Brush kindly consented to substitute. The Brush "Passion Play" lecture has proved exceptionally popular wherever it has been given. Since the minister returned from the last "Passion Play" production from Oberammergau he has given this lecture in all the bay cities. Most of the views he took with his own camera.

The music of the evening was by Dr. W. K. Scott, Arthur F. Agard and Charles Whitton.

Yosemite Council to GIVE WHIST PARTY

ALAMEDA, Nov. 2.—Yosemite Council No. 19, D. G. P. Improves Order of Red Men will give a whist tournament on Thursday evening, November 9. Many beautiful prizes are to be offered and are on exhibition in the show windows of Blinder's drug store. Following is the committee having charge of the affair:

Key Route Extension to Be in Operation On November 15.

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—Trains will be running on the Sacramento street extension of the Key Route to Northbrae, Berkeley, before November 15, according to statement issued by the officials of the company today.

The overhead work has been completed and the company is rushing the work on the tracks and will have the road ready for the public within the time limit set in the franchise, which is November 17. The new line will branch into Linden street from the Key Route pier, following Linden street to Forty-fourth street, where it will cut into Sacramento street and parallel the Santa Fe line out Sacramento street to the Union depot at Northbrae.

Berkeley Society

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—Miss Marion Chase, a sister of Miss Helen Chase, a student of the University of California, who married early yesterday afternoon, at her home on Spring street, to Rev. W. F. Gorman, a clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in San Diego. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. B. Fry, pastor of the Berkeley Methodist church.

The couple left a few hours after the nuptials for Southern California. The groom was formerly a missionary worker in England.

The Saturday Night assembly, which was organized last season, will give a party for our townsmen, the first to be held next Saturday at Town and Down hall. The committee which has charge of the party includes Misses Henry Avila, A. W. Rieber, Louis Segelhurst, E. J. Schneider and Clarence Vincent. The membership includes about 40 married couples, among whom are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bostick, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Conover, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hargreave, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCreary, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent, Mr. and Mrs. Darley Holland, Mr. and Mrs. G. Rues, Dr. and Mrs. Simpson, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Sydes, Dr. and Mrs. Mark Toner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Turner, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Quirk.

Halloween parties were in order Tuesday night. The largest affair of this kind was the dance at the new chapel house on Prospect avenue.

Several surprise parties for the young people were given among them were: Among them was one tendered a young sister by Mrs. J. O. Rhodes of 2000 Alameda street, where the boys and girls shared the pleasure of the evening with the guests of honor. Miss Florence Gosses of Alameda, the evening's guests, were accompanied by the season's pumpkins being much in evidence. The refreshments were served in the dining room, and the decorations were similar favors, the place cards being embossed pumpkins. The refreshments were served in the dining room, and the decorations were similar favors, the place cards being embossed pumpkins.

Another Halloween party for young folks was given by Mrs. Chester Turner of 1000 Alameda street. The party was a surprise, and was shared by 20 or more of the young folks.

Fraternities organizations also observed the Halloween festival fittingly. Mount Pleasant, G. A. R., and corps had the most enjoyable affair of the season. The evening was spent in singing songs and patriotic were sung and suitable refreshments were served. The boys' club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. May, and 75 people were there to enjoy it.

Last evening the Berkeley Rebekahs were entertained at a Halloween jinks and pumpkin pie party.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Harmon are expected to return from their honeymoon in Claremont this week after a delightful honeymoon in the southern part of the State. The bride was Edna Kelly, who was married to Mr. Harmon before her marriage early in October.

Miss Margaret Alderson was hostess yesterday afternoon to a number of younger set, the guests of honor being Miss Estelle Rockwood of Los Angeles. The form of entertainment was a surprise. Miss Rockwood is the house guest of Mrs. A. S. Carmen and plans to spend the winter in Berkeley.

A surprise party uniquely planned and carried out was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richard Jones in the Edgar Thomas studio in La Loma park.

CATS EAT RATS; RATS EAT CATS

Prof. E. J. Wickson Objects to Latest Scheme of Sudden Riches.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Nov. 2.—In warning students of agriculture yesterday against false farming schemes, Prof. E. J. Wickson told of an imaginary "cat farm," which was to depend for its existence upon a rat farm adjoining.

Members of the class agreed with him that there was temporary consolation for some 100,000 cats, thus herded together, in having a rat ranch in close proximity, but it was the consensus of opinion that it would make little difference in the end for pussy whose existence on the farm was only for the purpose of being skinned for fur.

INGENIOUS DREAMER.

Prof. Wickson read to the class a prospectus of the proposed rat and cat ranches. The plan, evolved by some ingenious dreamer, who represents that he is about to start a company, is as follows: "Knowing that some one is interested in the fur business, I take the liberty of presenting you with what seems to me a most wonderful business proposition, and in which, no doubt, you will take a lively interest, and perhaps will me the amount of stock that you want to subscribe toward the foundation of this company."

"The object of this company is to operate a large cat ranch in or near Oakland, where cats can be purchased cheap for this purpose."

To start with, we will collect about 100,000 cats. Each cat will average twelve kittens a year. The skins will run from 10 cents each for the white ones to 75 cents for the pure black. This will give us twelve million skins a year to sell at an average of 50 cents a piece, making our revenue about $1,000,000 a day gross.

HIGH FINANCE, THIS.

"A man can skin 50 cats a day for $2.00. It will take 100 men to operate the ranch, and, therefore, the net profit will be about $1,000,000 a day."

"We will feed the cats on rats and will start the rat ranch next door. The rats multiply four times as fast as the cats. If we have 100 cats on one rat ranch, we have, therefore, four rats per day for each cat, which will be plenty."

"We will have a large number of cats on the carcasses of the cats, from which the skins have been taken, giving each rat one-fourth of a cat."

LOSES ESTATE; MIN DRAINS HER

The Disappointed Woman Is Arrested On a Charge of Insanity.

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—Disappointed in an effort to obtain her portion of a rich estate in Switzerland, Mrs. Louis Rizzoli, a washerwoman of West Berkeley, secured a writ of habeas corpus from a local court, and today was taken to the detention ward for the insane in Oakland on a charge of insanity.

Three months ago Mrs. Rizzoli, making the trip with the proceeds of her labor for many years, expecting to receive her portion of a rich estate, through the opposition of some of her kindfolk and the use of a technicality, prevented her from taking possession of the inheritance from the country, she was deprived of the fortune. Owing a home in this city and having originally come here to separate from her husband, who is in her native country, Mrs. Rizzoli determined to come back to Berkeley.

She returned to Berkeley with a impaired mind, which she said was the result of her treatment by her relatives.

On the return voyage she traveled steerage, instead of making a first-class passage, as she did on the trip going.

Since returning to Berkeley, she has believed herself to be possessed of evil spirits, and has threatened her own life. Recently she has been in charge of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bunker, who have been sworn to by a complaint charging insanity.

Mrs. Rizzoli has a young daughter who has been living with her at the home on Tenth street, West Berkeley.

TO MAKE SPECIAL SEARCH FOR AUTO

Fund of $250 to Be Raised to Hunt for Man Who Ran Down Wilkins.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 2.—Special detective work to be employed by friends of J. H. Wilkins to hunt down the auto which injured Wilkins, a week ago. Wilkins was at first believed to be fatally injured, but is now recovering slowly. E. E. Putnam, director of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce, and a close friend of the injured man, is circulating a subscription list and plans to raise $250 to probe the matter. About $100 has already been raised. W. V. Gooley heading the subscription list.

The auto which ran down Wilkins went on and left him lying senseless in the street. It is believed to have contained a party of two women and a man. It was believed that an auto bearing home-ward guests from the Foster-Hogan wedding reception had been driving through the accident, but this fact has not yet been determined.

SUFFRAGISTS CELEBRATE VICTORY THIS EVENING

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—Suffragists of Berkeley and the surrounding region gathered at Berkeley high school auditorium this evening for a ratification of the recent victory at the polls. The mass meeting was addressed by Prof. W. S. Morgan of the Pacific Union divinity school, Rev. Florence Buck of Alameda, Mrs. William Keith of this city, and the Rev. J. H. Wilkins, an Equal League, and Mrs. Dane College, an educator and sociologist writer, who resides here. Mrs. Hester Harland, who was campaign manager in Berkeley for the suffragists, will preside and make a brief talk.

A consecration meeting to be held at one of the local churches has been indefinitely postponed on account of the arrangements for tonight's meeting. It will probably be held at an early date, however.

HILDA ANDERSON, AGED 15, AGAIN DISAPPEARS

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Charles Bossier, an employee of the Troy Laundry, stated today that her sister, fifteen-year-old Hilda Anderson, who was alleged to have been less than a week ago in Oakland, has again disappeared. The girl is said to have left Monday evening.

"I don't know where Hilda is," said Mrs. Bossier today, "and neither my father nor brother knows. They did not make an effort to locate her. They did not speak to her after her recent experience away from home and I believe caused her to leave again." The girl's home was at 2002 Parker street.

JAPANESE GRADUATE BECOMES ART WRITER

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Nov. 2.—A graduate of this university in the art department is arousing interest in local college circles through a series of articles on Japanese art which he is contributing to a large art magazine. While in Berkeley he was engaged in journalistic work, contributing to the "Overland Monthly," the "Golden Era," and other magazines. Leaving the university, he was named as a representative of Japan at the world's press congress held at St. Louis. Hadada later secured publication of the Japanese government publication on the conditions of the Japanese Empire.

SETTING STAKES FOR STREET IMPROVEMENT

ALAMEDA, Nov. 2.—City Engineer I. N. Chapman today commenced the setting of stakes for the improvement of Mound street, from San Jose avenue to Calhoun street. Powell Brothers Construction company, who were awarded the contract for the work, have completed preparations and the work will be started immediately.

Ready for a Great November

Out of past achievements and successful accomplishment grows the inspiration to still larger and better things.

Out of the result of October's business, which was one of the heaviest and most satisfactory months in the entire history of this store, comes a determination to reach even a larger volume for November. Merchandise offerings from day to day throughout this month will be calculated with this end in view, and the offerings of this house throughout November will be of a kind and character to command the careful attention of every reader of this paper. Watch them carefully throughout the month and profit by the special features which are to be exploited.

Men's Suits and Overcoats

New Suits and Overcoats will have their first showing here tomorrow at $15.

Splendid, new lines, which have just been received, and which reflect the latest turn of men's fashions, in both cut, material and color. These suits are extremely nobly in pattern; many new wood and chocolate browns, as well as smart and serviceable grays (and of course the regular navy and blacks) will be found in the collection. These suits are made by our own Eastern organization, and no suits of any other make will compare in quality or in workmanship with these garments. When you buy here you buy of the maker and one profit is clipped from the cost to you. See both suits and overcoats tomorrow.

Boys' Double-Breasted Two-Piece Suits $3.95

Strictly all wool; new shades of brown, grays, fancy chevrons, coats of all colors, and overcoats of all colors, and up-to-date in every particular; these are for boys from 8 to 15 years of age; a whole counter of them at $3.95.

"Stroller" Overcoat For Boys and Girls $5.00

Every one buttoning clear to the neck; pretty, soft-rolling revers; these are strictly all wool, and all wool serge lined; for boys and girls, ages 6 to 16 years; special at $5.00.

Men's Velour Hats $2.85.

Imported Velour Hats, new styles, shapes and colors, on sale Friday and Saturday at $2.85. Further particulars in tomorrow night's papers.
